

"THE AGITATION OF THOUGHT IS THE BEGINNING OF WISDOM."

PARTRIDGE AND BRITTAN, PUBLISHERS, 342 BROADWAY-TERMS, TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE; SINGLE COPIES, FIVE CENTS.

VOL. V.-NO. 34.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1856.

WHOLE NO. 242.

Current Items.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES IN AMERICAN HISTORY .- A very interesting accession, says the New York Tribune, is likely to be made to our own early history from the researches of a gentleman, Mr. Buckingham Smith, attached to the Spanish Legation. After long and toilsome research in the Spanish archives, he has found a mass of papers relating to the discoveries, explorations and conquests of the Spaniards in the southern parts of the United States and the territories adjacent. There is nothing more interesting, more romantic, and at the same time more obscure, than the story of these early enterprises. What has thus far been known of Ponce de Leon, Cabeca de Vaca, De Soto, and their brother adventurers, has served to stimulate curiosity without satisfying it. The crusade of Melendez against the Huguenots of Florida. and the atrocious butcheries of St. Augustine and Fort Caroline, where hundreds of Protestants fell victims to the bigotry of Philip II., is a passage of history as little known as it is deeply interesting. On these and many other kindred topics Mr. Smith has discovered documents, written in many instances by the actors themselves, and bringing forth into clear light events which heretofore have lurked in clouds and darkness. He has devoted himself to the task in the spirit of a scholar to whom the pursuit of knowledge is its own reward. His devotion of time and means to these painful and thankless labors will win for him the gratitude of every one capable of appreciating his motives. Selections from the documents are now in press at Madrid, and it is proposed to publish a volume of them in this country, provided subscribers enough can be found to reduce the necessary expense within a moderate compass.

NEGRO PLOT IN TENNESSEE .- A plot for the rising of the negroes in this State has been detected, and caused great excitement in Montgomery county, where it was first discovered. It is alleged that Christmas eve had been fixed upon for the rising, and the most extensive arrangements had been made to carry it out successfully. One white man has been arrested, together with a great many negroes, including many of the generals, captains, and other officers of the supposed movement. Several of them have made full confessions. A large collection of arms and ammunition has been seized. The church at Louisa Furnace had been undermined, and powder placed beneath it, ready to be blown up when filled with people. The plot, it is believed, extends over a wide range of territory south and west. There is an extra patrol on duty every night at Clarksville, and every housekeeper is well armed and prepared for any emergency.

SCALDED TO DEATH BY INHALING STEAM .- A child three years of age named Daniel Shea, died yesterday at the residence of his parents. No. 52 Park-street, from scalds received on Wednesday last. Coroner Connery held an inquest upon the body, when it appeared in evidence that the deceased, while his parents were in the room, put his mouth to the spout of a kettle containing boiling water, and inhaled the steam to such an extent that death ensued. The jury rendered the following verdict: "That deceased came to his death by being accidentally scalded in putting its mouth to the pipe of a kettle of water on the stove and inhaling the steam, which so severely scalded its throat as to cause inflammation and subsequent death. We censure the parents for their carelessness in being in the room and allowing the child to go to the stove and inhale the steam."-- Tribune.

COOLNESS UNPARALLELED .- A mercantile firm of this city received this week a letter from the Captain of one of the brigs they chartered, dated Barbadoes, in which he informs them, that as he believes the United States are about going to eternal smash, he has sold ship and cargo and pocketed the money, which he don't think they will ever see again. He concludes with some complimentary allusions to our countrymen, and wishes he had never seen any of them. The vessel is the brig Boston .- Boston Gazette.

A DECENT letter from London states that the physicians of Dr. Kane whose health was very delicate when he left this country, have ordered him to the West Indies for the winter, on account of serious pulmonary symptoms which have alarmed them with doubts of his final recovery. He is suffering in consequence of the exposures and privations incident to his last Polar Expedition.

NEW MUSIC.

WE have received from the publisher, Horsee Waters, 333 Broadway, N. Y., the following new pieces of music.

Deliciosa, or Leonore Polka, composed for the Piano by Carl Merz Price 25 cts.

WILLIE'S FAVORITE QUICKSTEP, by S. A. Earle. Price 25 cts.

MY MOTHER, (Song) words by Miss L. Johnson; music by S. A. Earle.

I've lingered too long by thy side, Love, (Song) words by W. J. May; music by Ossian E. Dodge. Price 25 cts.

Tom Tit, (Song) sung by Little Cordelia Howard in the Dramatic representation of Tom Tit as conceived by Mrs. Stowe in her popular work "Dred," or the Great Dismal Swamp, and as performed nightly to crowded houses. Words by her father, G. C. Howard. Price 25 cts

The five pieces will be sent, post paid, by the publisher, to any portion of the United States or Camada, on receiving a remittance of $1.

Of the merits of this music we can only say in brief, that the five pieces form a handsome collection, and are well worth the price that is asked for them.

PERSONAL AND SPECIAL NOTICES.

Movements of the Editor.

Sixce Mr. Brittan left Fond du Lac. Wisconsin, he has delivered lectures in Beloit (Wis.), Rockfort (Ill), and from a private letter received after the last week's TELEGRAPH had been worked off, we learned that he had then just completed a course in Chicago. His appointments, dating from his last dispatch, are as follows:

Beloit,	Wis	. Thursday Evening	Novembe	r 27th.
Rockfort,	Ill	. Friday "	46	28th.
Milwaukee,	Wis	. Sunday (three lectures)	44	80th.
New Albany,	, Ind	. Tuesday Evening	Decembe	r 2d.
44 0 44	"	. Wednesday "	44	8d.
44 44		. Thursday "	-44	4th.
Laporte,		Friday "	41	5th.
Goshen.		Sunday (two lectures)	44	7th.
Coldwater,	Mich	. Monday Evening	44	Sth.
		. Tuesday "	- 66	9th.
	*		11	10th.
Edwardsburg		. Thursday "		11th.
Battle Creek		Friday "	ti ti	12th.
Jackson,			- 11	14th.
	4	. Monday "	44	15th.
Lioni,			44	16th.
Utica,	N. Y	Sunday (two lectures)		21st.

Mr. Brittan has delivered nearly forty lectures since he left New York and thus far has not failed of meeting a single appointment. He expects to reach home before Christmas.

The friends in the several places named above, are requested to make wish of those who have listened to him during this present engagement. Mr. Ambler is one of the most intellectual, enrnest and eloquent exents of Spiritualism. His audiences have been large and highly intellectual.

JUDGE EDMONDS will speak at Dodworth's Academy next Sunday, norning and evening, at the usual hours.

Rev. T. H. HARRIS will speak in Academy Hall, 663 Broadway, next Sunday morning and evening, at the usual hours.

Miss Hardinge's Entertainment.

The entertainment advertised in our last two issues, was given by Miss Emma Hardinge, assisted by her choir and several amateur performers, at the Broadway Athenæum on Wednesday evening of last week, to a crowded audience. The performances consisted of music by Miss H.'s choir; several songs by the "Accidentals," a popular band of amateur singers; a solo by Miss Frank Turner (a young lady with a splendid silvery voice); several beautiful Tableaux vivants, and various dramatic readings by Miss Hardinge herself, the latter constituting the most prominent and attractive feature of the evening's entertainment. The performances throughout elicited much hearty and enthusiastic applause. Miss Hardinge evinces a clear conception of her characters, and possesses much dramatic power. Her personation of Julia in a scene from the Hunchback, we do not remember to have ever seen excelled. It may perhaps be said that her fort consists in the acting rather than in the reading part of her performances, though her accomplishments as a reader are by no means of an inferior order. At the close of the entertainment, she was called before the curtain (as she had been once before) and received very enthusiastic testimonials of applause, to which she responded in a brief and appropriate speech.

We understand that it is the intention of Miss Hardinge, provided she receives sufficient encouragement from her friends, to get up a series of evening entertainments during the winter, which, while they will respond to a natural and innocent demand for amusement, will b entirely free from the objectionable features and demoralizing associations too often connected with the ordinary theatrical entertainments. Having, in obedience to her higher aspirations, forsaken a lucrative and successful professional employment at the Theaters, we hope she will be encouraged in this proposed enterprise, and that she may, so far as possible, be instrumental in elevating the standard of theatrical performances, and making of the stage that powerful disseminator of refined tastes and sound morals which it is capable of becoming, but which, unfortunately, it now is not.

Dentistry.
Dr. H. Schoonmaker, No. 76 East Twelfth-street, after twelve years' professional experience in this city, respectfully informs those who need his services, that every operation will be performed in the most scientific manner. His artificial work embraces every possible requisite, combining neatness in the mechanical execution, practical utility in the process of mastication, and an appearance so life-like as to deceive the most scrutinizing observer. Decayed teeth skillfully filled with gold, which will preserve them from further decay, and render them useful through life. Teeth extracted without pain, by the application of the freezing mixture.

REMITTANCES TO THE SPIRITUAL TELEGRAPH;

The friends in the several places named above, are requested to make their arrangements agreeably to this Programme.

REMITTANCES TO THE SPIRITUAL TELEGRAPH;

BNDING DECEMBER 19.

James C. M. Beebe.

We are requested to say that, until further notice, Miss C. M. Beebe may be addressed, care of John J. Francis, Utica, N. Y.

Spiritualists' Sunday Meetings.

Rev. R. P. Ambles closed his engagement at Dodworth's Academy, last Sunday. Next Sunday and the Sunday following, he will speak in Troy, after which he goes to Boston to speak a few Sabbaths. There he may return to New York, in response to the seemingly universal

REMITTANCES TO THE SPIRITUAL TELEGRAPH;

REMITANCES TO THE SPIRITUAL TELEGRAPH;

REMITTANCES TO THE SPIRITUAL

PARTRIDGE AIND BRITTAN'S SPIRITUAL TELEGRAPH.

Partridge & Brittan's Publications.

Our list embraces all the principal works devoted to Spiritualism, whether published by ourselves or others, and will comprehend all works of value that may be issued hereafter. The reader's attention is particularly invited to those named below, all of which may be found at the office of The Spiritual Telegraph.

Postage on Books, if prepaid, is one cent per ounce; two cents per ounce if paid at Postage on Books, if prepaid, is one cent per ounce; two cents per ounce if paid at the office of delivery. Persons ordering books should therefore send sufficient money to cover the price of pastage.

to cover the price of postage

the office of delivery. Persons ordering to cover the price of postage.

Lyric of the Golden Age.
A poem. By Rev. Thomas L. Harris, author of "Epic of the Starry Heaven," A poem. By Rev. Thomas L. Harris, author of "Epic of the Starry Heaven," A poem. By Rev. Thomas L. Harris, author of "Epic of the Starry Heaven," and "Lyric of the Morning Land." 417 pp., 12mo. This last production of the and "Lyric of the Morning Land." 417 pp., 12mo. This last production thousand lines. In this great poem, the religious element and the more stirring practical interests of mankind engage the giant minds employed in fits production. This Lyric is transcendently rich in thought, splendid in imagery, instructive in the principles of Nature and religion, and at once commends itself as the most desirable Gift-Book of the season. Just published. Price, plain boards, $1 50; gilt, $2; postage, 20 cents. Partifice & Brittan, 342 Broadway.

Spirit-Manifestations by Dr. Hare.

Experimental Investigation of the Spirit-Manifestations, demonstrating the existence of Spirits and their communion with mortals; Doctrine of the Spirit-world respecting Heaven, Hell, Morality and God. Also, the Influence of Scripture on the morals of Christians. By Robert Hare, M. D. Emeritus-Professor of Chemistry in the Pennsylvania University, Graduate of Yale College and Harvard University, Associate of the Smithsonian Institute, and Member of various learned Societies. Parradog & Beitran, Publishers. Price $1 75; postage, 30 cents.

The Shekinah, Vol. I.

e Shekinah, Vol. I.

By S. B. Brittan, Editor, and other writers, is devoted chiefly to an Inquiry into the Spiritual Nature and Relations of Man. It treats especially of the Philosophy of Vital, Mental and Spiritual Phenomena, and contains Interesting Facts and profound Expositions of the Psychical Conditions and Manifestations now attracting attention in Europe and America. This volume contains, in part, the Editor's Philosophy of the Soul; the Interesting Visions of Hon. J. W. Edmonds, Lives and Portraits of Seers and Eminent Spiritualists; Pac-similes of Mystical Writings in Foreign and Dead Languages, through E. P. Fowler, etc. Published by Partidge & Brittan. Bound in muslin, price, $2.50; elegantly bound in moreoco, lettered and gilt in a style suitable for a Gift-book, price, $3.00; postage, 34 cents.

Volumes II. and III.
Plain bound in muslin, $1 75 each; extra bound in morocco, handsomely gilt, $2 25 each; postage, 24 cents each.

The Telegraph Papers.

16 Telegraph Papers.
Eight Volumes, 12mo., about 4,000 pages, with complete Index to each Volume, printed on good paper and handsomely bound. These books contain all the more important articles from the weekly Spiritual Telegraph, and embrace nearly all the important Spiritual Facts which have been made public during the two years ending May, 1855. The price of these books is 75 cents per volume. The subscribers to the Telegraph will be furnished with a set for $4. Postage, 20 cents per volume.

The Spiritual Telegraph.

Volume I., a few copies complete, bound in a substantial manner. Price, $3.

The Tables Turned.

A brief Review of Rev. C. M. Butler, D.D., by Rev. S. B. Brittan. "He that is A their review of Rev. C. M. Butter, D.D., by Rev. S. B. Brittan. "He that is first in his own cause seemeth just; but his neighbor cometh and searcheth him." This is a brief refutation of the principal objections urged by the clergy against Spiritualism, and is, therefore, a good thing for general circulation. Price, single copies, 25 cents. Postage, 3 cents. If purchased for gratuitous distribution, the price will be at the rate of $12 per 100, if 25 or more copies be ordered.

Price will be at the rate of $12 per 100, it 25 or more copies be ordered.

Physico-Physiological Researches.

In the Dynamics of Magnetism, Electricity, Heat, Light, Crystallization and Chemism, in their relations to Vital Force. By Baron Charles Yon Reichenbach, Complete from the German second edition; with the addition of a Preface and Critical Notes, by John Ashburner, M.D.; third American edition. Published by Participes & Burtan, at the reduced price of $1; postage, 20 cents.

ic of the Starry Heaven.

Spoken by Thomas L. Harris in 26 hours and 16 minutes, while in the trance state; 210 pages, 12mo, 4,000 lines. Price, plain bound, 75 cents; gilt muslin, $1:
morocco, $1 25. Postage, 12 cents.

Discourses from the Spirit-World,
Discourses from the Spirit-World,
Distated by Stephen Olin, through Rev. R. P. Wilson, Writing Medium. To do good is the golden rule of the Universe. New York; Partridge & Brittan. This is an interesting volume of some 200 pages just published. Price, 68 cents ittan and Richmond's Discussion.

Brittan and Richmond's Discussion.

400 pages octavo. This work contains twenty-four Letters from each of the par ties above named, embodying a great number of Facts and Arguments, pro and con., designed to illustrate the Spiritual Phenomena of all ages, but especially the Modern Manifestations. To insure a wide circulation, the work'is offered at the low price of $1. Postage, 28 cents. Published by Paeterdor & Britan.

low price of $1. Postage, 28 cents. Published by Partridge & Brittan.

The Celestial Telegraph.

Or, Secrets of the Life to Come; wherein the Existence, the Form, and the Occupation of the Soul after its separation from the Body are proved by many years Experiments, by the means of eight ecstatic Somnambulists, who had Eighty Perceptions of Thirty-six persons in the Spiritual World. By L. A. Cahanet, Published by Partridge & Brittan. Price, $1; postage, 19 cents.

Stilling's Prepumetalogy.

Stilling's Pneumatology,
Being a Reply to the Questions, What Ought and Ought Not to be Believed or Disbelieved concerning Presentiments, Visions, and Apparitions according to Nature, Reason and Scripture, translated from the German; edited by Prof. George Bush. Published by Partridge & Brittan. Price 75 cents; postage, 16 cents.

Bush. Published by Faring States and Manifestation, including the Philosophy of Mind in its being and Manifestation, including the Philosophy of Spiritual Manifestations, the true relation of the Finite to the Infinite. Each number contains 96 pages large octavo. Price Brittan's Review of Beecher's Report.

Wherein the conclusions of the latter are carefully examined and tested by a comparison with his premises, with reason and with the facts. Price, 25 cents, paper bound, and $8 cents in muslin; postage, 8 and 6 cents.

paper bound, and $3 cents in muslin; postage, $ and 6 cents.

Spiritualism.

By Judge Edmonds and Dr. G. T. Dexter, with an Appendix by Hon. N. P. Tallmadge and others. Price, $1 25; postage, $0 cents.

Spiritualism, Volume II.

By Judge Edmonds and Dr. Dexter. "The truth against the world." This elegant octave of 542 pages is just issued, and is selling rapidly. Price, $1 25; postage, 30 cents.

Lyric of the Morning Land.

A beautiful poem of 5,000 lines (253 pages), 12mo, dictated in thirty hours, printed on the finest paper and elegantly bound. Price, plain muslin, 75 cents; muslin gilt, $1; morocco gilt, $1 25.

git, $1; morocco git, $1 20.

The Present Age and the Inner Life.

Being a sequel to Spiritual Intercourse. By A. J. Davis. This is an elegant book of near 300 pages octavo, illustrat(; just published by Partridge & Brittan.

A Book of Fact and Revelations concerning the Inner Life of Man and a World of Spirits. By Justinus Kerner. New edition; published by Partridge & Britana, Price 38 cents; postage, 6 cents.

The Pilgrimage of Thomas Paine.

Written by the Scitt of Thomas Paine, through C. Hammond, Medium. Published by Parternea & Brittan. Paper, price, 50 cents; muslin, 75 cents; post-

A Chart.

A Chart.

Exhibiting an Outline of the Progressive History and Approaching Destiny of the Race. Bound, or on roller. By A. J. Davis. Partition & Brittan, Publishers. Price, $1 75.

ers. Price, $1 75.

A Review of Dod's Involuntary Theory of the Spiritual Manifestations.
By W. S. Courtney. A most triumphant Refutation of the only Material Theory that deserves a respectful notice. Price, 25 cents; postage, 3 cents.

Scenes in the Spirit-World; or, Life in the Spheres.
By Hudson Tuttle, Medium. Partinger & Brittan, Publishers. Price, muslin, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents; postage, 7 cents.

The Americaching Criss.

The Approaching Crisis,

The Approaching Criss,

Being a Review of Dr. Bushnell's recent Lectures on Supernaturalism. By A. J.

Davis. Published by Parthiber & Brittan. Price, 50 cents; postage, 13 cents.

Philosophy of the Spirit-World.

Rev. Charles Hammond, Medium. Published by Parthiben & Brittan. Price, 63 cents; postage, 12 cents.

Voices from Spirit-Land.

Through Nathan France, White Modium.

Throngh Nathan Francis White, Medium. Partriber & Brittan. Price, 75 cents; postage, 13 cents.

cents; postage, 13 cents.

The Telegraph's Answer to Rev. Asa Mahan.

By S. B. Brittan. Price, 25 cents; postage, 3 cents; 25 copies for $3

Nature's Divine Revelations, etc.

By A. J. Davis, the Clairvoyant. 786 pages. Price, $2; postage, 43 cents.

The Clairvoyant Family Physician.

By Mrs. Tuttle. Paper, price, 75 cents; muslin, $1; postage, 10 cents.

PARTRIDGE & BRITTAN, Publishers, No. 342 Broadway, New

PARTRIDGE & BRITTAN'S AGENTS,

OOKS IN OUR LIST AT PUBLISHERS' PR NASHVILLE, TENN.—James M. Lyon, 46 College-street. WHO WILL SUPPLY THE BOOKS IT ROCHESTER, N. Y.—D. M. Dewey, ALBANY, N. Y.—A. F. Chatfield, 44 B way. TROY, N. Y.—S. F. Hoyt, 3 First-street. Building, N. Y.—T. S. Hawks, Post-office Building, Y.—Roberts & French, 172 Gen-esce-street.

esce-street.
Boston, Mass.—Bela Marsh, 15 Franklinst.; Burnham, Federhern & Co., 9 and 13 Court-st.
HARTFOUD, CONN.—A. Rose.
BILLADELPHIA—S. Barry, 221 Arch-street
PALTMORE, MD.—H. Taylor, 111 Baltimore-street; William M. Lang.

NASHYILLE, TENN.—James M. Lyon, 46
College-street.
CRNINNATI, OHIO—H. Bly.
CLEVELAND, OHIO—Hawkis & Bro., Post-office Building.
DETROIT, MIOL.—J. S. Fuller, 222 Jefferson Avenue.
St. Louis, Mo.—Woodward & Co., N. E. corner Fourth and Chesnut-sta; Miss Sarah J. Irish, No. 45 Fifth-street.
SAN FRANCISCO, CALA.—Valentine & Co. 175 Jackson-street.
TORONTO, C. W.—E. V. Wilson. Other Agents and Book-dealers will be supplied promptly. A liberal discount allowed to the trade for cash.

The following persons are authorized to receive money for Subscriptions to the Spitterual Telegraph, Joel Tifany's Monthly, Journal of Man, and for all BOOKS SPITITULAI TELEGRAPH, Joel Tiffany's Month contained in Partridge and Brittan's Catalogue New-York—John F. Coles.

New-York—John F. Coles.

BATAVIA, N. Y.—J. J. Denslow.
CLYMER, N. Y.—William Mudge.
SWINA, N.Y.—J. B. Greeley.
EAEUVILLE, N. Y.—William Mudge.
SWINA, N.Y.—J. O. Ransom.
MORRIS, N. Y.—Stormson.

MORRIS, N. Y.—Seo, L. Ryder.
MORRIS, N. Y.—J. H. Allen.
CENTER SIERMAN, N. Y.—A. E. Lyon.
CONTENDED, L. L.—J. H. Goldsmith.
WINSTED, CONN.—Bendjah Mallory.
STEPNEY, CONN.—Bendjah Mallory.
STEPNEY, CONN.—General Judson Curlis.
HARTTORR, CONN.—Dr. J. R. Mettler.
NEW HAVEN, CONN.—H. N. Goodman.
SOUTH MANGIESTER, CT.—Ward Cheney.
FA

Independent of the control of the co

OUR FOREIGN AGENTS.

ENGLAND.—London.—H. Bailliere, 219 Regent-street. France.—Paris.—J. B. Bailliere, 19 Rue Hautefuelle. Spain.—Madrid.—Ch. Bailly-Bailliere, 11 Calle del Principe.

WORKS OF A. J. DAVIS.

PARTRIDGE & BRITTAN have all the works of Mr. Davis wholesale and retail. The following is a scale of retail prices, with postage per mail:

The Penetralia.

By A. J. Davis. Just published. 328 pages, octavo. Price, $1; postage 21 cts.

Nature's Divlne Revelations, etc.

Given by inspiration through the mediumship of A. J. Davis. One of the most remarkable and instructive productions of the nineteenth century: nearly 800 pages octavo. Price, $2; postage 43 cents.

The Great Harmonia, Vol. 1V.
The Reformer. Price, $1; postage, 19 cents.

The Philosophy of Special Providences, A Vision. Price, 15 cents; postage, 8 cents. The Great Harmonia, Vol. I.

The Physician. Price, $1 25; postage, 20 cents.
The Great Harmonia, Vol. II.

The Teacher. Price, $1; postage, 19 cents.

The Philosophy of Spiritual Intercourse. Price, 50 conts; postage, 9 cent The Great Harmonia, Vol. IK.

The Seer. Price, $1; postage, 19 cents.

The Seer. Price, $1; postage, 19 cents.

The Approaching Crisis;

Being a Review of Dr. Bushnell's recent Lectures on Supernatualism, by Davis.

Price, 50 cents; postage, 13 cents.

The Harmonial Man.

Price, 30 cents; postage, 5 cents.

Price, 30 cents; postage, 3 cents.

The Present Age;
Price, $1; postage, 23 cents.

Free Thoughts Concerning Religion.
Price, 15 cents; postage, 3 cents.

MESICAL ACADEMY.

THE New York Musical Academy is now open. Principal, Miss Emma Hardinge Vocalists invited to join the Evening Classes for Oratorios, Glees, Yact Songs, etc. Apply at the Academy, 558 Broadway, from 11 till 5.

Boarding, 137 Spring-street-Where Spiritualists can live with comfort and ecoromy, with people of their own sentiments.

MRS. METTLER'S MEDICINE

HAVE now been long enough before the public to win a good name to the their best voucher is actual trial. All of her Remedies are compounded accepting to her etions, given while in a state of Clairvoyanee, and are purely vegets and perfeetly safe under all circumstance

MRS. METTLER'S RESTORATIVE SYRUP,

MRS. METTLER'S RESTORATIVE SYRUF,

Though not a Universal Panacea, is one of the most efficacious Remedies for a though not a Universal Panacea, is one of the Blood, Derangement of the Secretions, and Blious Obstructions. Those who are troubled with unequal Circuits, or the Moreous Headache, Inactivity of the Liver, Constipation of the Bowe and Irritation of the Mucous Membrane, together with their various sympathetic costs, will find this Symm invaluable. will find this Syrup invaluable

MRS. METTLER'S DYSENTERY CORDIAL,

A STOMACH AND BOWEL CORRECTOR. This important remedy has always proved secessful when properly used, and the directions strictly carried out, and no family should be without it. It is a remarkable medicine, and has never failed to cure in upward of 300 cases here in Hartford.

MRS. METTLER'S CELEBRATED ELIXIR,

For Cholera and severe Cholic Pains, Gramps of the Stomach and Bowels, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Pains, Bilious tendency of the Stomach, Fever and Ague, and severe pains induced by internal injuries. This will be found to be equally good for the purposes to which it is a controlled to the purposes to which it is a controlled to the purposes to which it is a controlled to the purposes to which it is a controlled to the purposes to which it is a controlled to the purposes to which it is a controlled to the purposes to which it is a controlled to the purposes to which it is a controlled to the purpose to which it is a controlled to the purpose to which it is a controlled to the purpose to which it is a controlled to the purpose to which it is a controlled to the purpose to which it is a controlled to the purpose to which it is a controlled to the purpose poses to which it is especially adapted.

MRS. METTLER'S NEUTRALIZING MIXTURE

MRS. METTLER'S NEUTRALIZING MIXTURE.

This is the best of all remedies for Bilious Obstructions, Acidity of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, Constitution of the Bowels, Headache, Febrile symptoms occasioned by Colds or Worms. In ordinary derangement of the bowels it should be used with my Dysentery Cordial, a teaspoonful of each mixed together, once an hour. If the case be urgent, the quantity may be increased, and the dose administered with greater frequency. This remedy is indispensible in families, from the great prevalence of Dyspeptic and Bilious attacks, in all classes of the community; it will prove to the best remedy in use, and no family should be without it. the best remedy in use, and no family should be without it.

WRS. WETTLER'S PHILMONARIA.

An excellent remedy for Colds, irritation of the Throat and Lungs, Hemorrhage, Asthma, Consumption, Whooping Cough, and all diseases of the Respiratory Organs.

MRS. METTLER'S HEALING OINTMENT,

For Burns, Sealds, Fresh Cuts and Wounds of aimest every description, Bolls, Salt Rheum, Blisters, Swelled and Sore Breasts or Nipples, Glandular Swelling, Piles, Chapped Hands or Chaffing.

MRS. METTLER'S REMARKABLE & UNPRECEDENTED LINIMENT

Which supplies a deficiency long felt, respecting cases of Lameness and Weakness of several parts of the human system, Contracted Muscles and Sinews, Rhenmatic, Inflammatory and Neuralgic Affections, Callons and Stiff Joints, Spasmodic Contractions, Callons and Stiff Joints, Spasmodic Contractions and Callons JAMES McCLESVER, Proprietor.

A. ROSE, Agent, Hartford, Connecticut

PARTRIDGE & BRITTAN, Agents for New York.

Agents for the Sale of Mrs. Mettler's Clairvoyant Medicines.

Abraham Rose, Hartford, Conn.; Partridge & Brittan, 342 Broadway, New York; Bela Marsh, 15 Franklin-street, Boston; Samuel Barry, 221 Arch-street, Philadelphia; L. Ward Smith, Cleveland, Ohio; Stephen Albro (Age of Peogress*), Buffalo, N. Y.; James M. Barnes, Lockport, Pa.; W. H. Hutchings, 82 Canal-street, New Orleans; A. F. Chatfield, Albany, N. Y.; Isaac Post & Co., Rochester, N. Y.; S. Bulkeley Norwich, Conn.; William B. Dyer, Bridgeport, Conn.; John A. Weed, Norwalk, Conn.; Charles R. Bennett, Glens Falls, N. Y.; E. Waters, Troy, N. Y.; Upham & Conn.; Charles E. Bennett, Glens Fails, N. Y.; E. Waters, Troy, N. Y.; Upham & Co., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Sands Seeley, Stamford, Conn.; Miss Bronson, Winsted, Conn.; Burnham, Federhern & Co., 13 Court-street, Boston; Christopher Woodbridge & Co., South Manchester, Conn.; Charles P. A. Mason, Providence, R. L.; Mrs. M. Hayes, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Charles Clark, Worcester, Mass.; Henry Sherburne, Esperence, N. Y.; B. K. Bliss & Haven, Springfield, Mass.; Thomas Lord, Bridgeport, Conn.; James Mettler, 124 Warren-street, N. Y.; C. L. Hubbard, West burne, Esperence, N. Y.; B. K. Bliss & Haven, Springfield, Mass.; Indinas Lore, Bridgeport, Conn.; James Mettler, 124 Warren-street, N. Y.; C. L. Hubnard, West Meriden, Conn.; H. G. Fowler, Anburn, N. Y.; D. M. Eddy, Cleveland, Ohlo; Daniel N. Trall, Lyndon, Vt.; A. B. Hill & Co., Newark, N. J.; Octavins King, 634 Washington-street, Boston; W. W. Whipple & Co., Portland, Me.; T. W. Hayes, Brocklyn, N. Y.; Hill & Rouse, Saratoga, N. Y.; J. T. Pease, Thompsonville, Conn.; G. Sclay, Kingston, N. J.; J. D. Tallmadge, Cincinnati, O.; W. M. Saning, Bultimore, Md.; A. D. Tyler, Camden, Me.; John S. Gilman, Newburyport, Mass.; Mayberry & Blake, Lowell, Mass.; S. B. Nichols, Burlington, Vt.; Stephen A. Spencer, New Haven, Conn.; Dr. A. E. Noble, Port Huron, Mich.; Pratt, Hayden & Co., Essex Conn.; Charles Bogue, West Meriden, Conn.; Daniel Norton, Southington, Conn.; Captain Hurt, Middle Haddam, Conn.; John Quincy Adams, Warchonse Point, Conn.; W. H. Wells, Southold, L. L.; Loomis & Co., Suffield, Conn.; B. D. Stevens, Fulton, N. Y.; Mrs. Terre, Westfield, Mass.; William H. Cogswell, Rockville, Conn.; Hriram Rogers, Mellenry, Ill.; Borden & Tew, Taunton, Mass.; Ames Warrous, Mystic Bridge, Conn.; H. Simeoneaus, Detroit, Mich.; Joseph Woods, Knightstown, Ind.; George Nichols, Wickford, R. I.; E. R. Squier, Kalamazoo, Mich.; A. B. Hill & Co., Newark, N. J.; Thomas Shields, San Francisco, California; E. Fester, Carthagena, South America.

THE NERVE-SOOTHING VITAL FLUIDS. A New Medicine Purely Vegetable.

PREPARED ENTIRELY BY SPIRIT-DIRECTION, THROUGH

MRS. E. J. FRENCH, MEDIUM.

MRS. E. J. FRENCH, MEDIUM.

These Fluids are divided into classes adapted to the diseases specified under each number, and are separately or in combination a safe and certain cure for all the diseases named under the respective heads, many of which have for ages builded the skill of the learned, among which are St. Vitus's Dance, Tie Deloreux, Neuralgia, Rheumatis in all its varied forms, Locked Jaw, Epilepsy, or Falling Sickness, Paley, Nevrous ans. Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Kidneys and Liver, Diarrhea, Irregularities of the Female System, Tetter, and all Canancous Diseases, Chilis and Fever, Cramp, Colic, Cholera-morbus, Cholera, Quinsy, Influenza, and all Acute Pains and Nervous Diseases. These Fluids have not failed to give relief in any of the above cases where they have been fairly tested, and we have now a number of living witnesses to whom we can refer.

nesses to whom we can refer.

Also the Lung and Cough Syrup, a safe and invaluable remedy for Croup, Coughs, Colds, Sore Throats, and Bronchial affections—a sure cure for Bleeding of the Lungs and Consumption in its first stages.

For further particulars address T. Culberteon, Agent, No. 4 Fourth Avenue, N.Y.

TO SPIRITUALISTS GENERALLY.

The Spiritualists of Cincinnait, having effected a permanent organization, have procured for their use a new, large and commodicas room, known as National Hall, and they invite the especial attention of speaking mediums and other lecturers on the Spiritual Philosophy and kindred subjects, to the above-mentioned fact. Those wishing further information on the subject will please call on or address.

Those wishing further information on the subject will please call on or address.

288-tf J. D. TALLMADGE, Cor. Sec., 150 Vine-street, Cincinnati, O.

H. SHLARBAUM

OPTICIAN AND MANUFACTURER OF SCIENTIFIC INSTRUMENTS.
Office, 800 Broadway, up stairs.

SPIRITUAL

"THE AGITATION OF THOUGHT IS THE BEGINNING OF WISDOM."

PARTRIDGE AND BRITTAN, PUBLISHERS, 342 BROADWAY .-- TERMS, TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE; SINGLE COPIES, FIVE CENTS.

VOL. V.—NO. 34.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1856.

WHOLE NO. 242.

The Principles of Anture. CONFESSIONS OF SPIRITS.

Messrs. Partridge and Brittan: Galveston, November 13, 1856.

Rev. T. L. Harris paid us last spring-a visit constituting a new epoch in the spiritual history of Texas-(would that it were in our power to tell him how affectionately we remember him) the manifestations of Spirit-power have been exhibited in this city and (we believe) wherever else he sojourned in this State, with increasing efficacy, in higher forms, with more practical uses and more beautiful adaptations. In the bonds of quiet congeniality, the Spiritualists here have continued to hold their circles and to cultivate the fruits of Spirit intercourse, until mediums of almost every description have become developed, some of extraordinary powers; and much good, which the world knows not of, nor can as yet appreciate, has been accomplished. On a future occasion I may send you an account of these marvelous but truly beautiful developments; but in the present communication such is not my purpose.

Mr. Harris will doubtless recollect Mrs. S. who was partially developed as a pantomimic medium, and behind whose chair, while we sat at supper, stood the noble form of an Indian Chief, who stated that he was Castro, the Lipan. It is of her mediumship I am to speak.

We had been accustomed, privately and at fixed times, to hold regular circles for more than two years prior to the first of June last, without any very satisfactory results. Early in that month, while seated in a circle, a dark Spirit, to our surprise, suddenly took possession of the medium, who manifested great agony and distress. Deep groans, loud screams, abrupt ejaculations, and gestures expressive of horror, despair and frenzied anguish, succeeded. We tried to soothe the troubled Spirit by assurances of sympathy; we endeavored to impart the cheering influence of hope. A lady present became greatly agitated, whereupon the Spirit withdrew; and Mrs. S. immediately passed under another and different influence.

The Spirit that now controlled her addressed us at considerable length. He spoke of the difficulties he had encountered in bringing the medium to her present state of advancement; of the afflictions she had suffered, and of other circumstances which I need not now enumerate-all of which had conspired to attract him to her side and awaken his sympathies in her behalf. He said, our perseverance in holding circles under great discouragements, at regular periods, and for so long a time, had not only greatly aided him in the development of the medium, but had produced a harmony and congeniality in our circle, from which the happiest consequences would result if we continued mate and familiar friend. As such we regard him, aye, and defaithful and progressive as we might.

He informed us that his mission was to the Spirits in darkness. To lead them to repentance and humility, to induce them charity. Stern, simple and chaste, with no reaching after effect, ing from their land of wretchedness and despair to the realms of father, the guide and angel friend, with serene distinctness.

joy, freedom and never-ending progression, was the work to which his energies were dedicated. He said, that reckoning time burning words of reproof, every one of which was richly de--his mis-ionary labors had extended over a period of nearly Gentlemen-Ever since the brief visit which our friend, the four hundred years. "I left the earthly form," said he, "in the reign of Edward IV. of England.

But I refrain at present from writing more of the history of spiritual truth is sure to be promoted by its publication-not otherwise.

He informed us that he wanted our circle to become his assistant in the great cause of salvation in which he had been so long engaged; that for this he had taken great pains in preparing for a Spirit from the dark spheres to enter a human circle, harmothis speciality were once lost, she never again could recover it. She might perhaps be a medium for other purposes, but never again for this. He referred to the poor, distressed and smitten Spirit, just now in our midst, and asked what could fill our hearts with such transcendent joy as the consciousness of being instrumental in alleviating the dreadful sufferings endured by such darkened and despairing souls.

How cordially, how earnestly, did we accede to this request! How cheerfully did we pledge our humble efforts to the cause in which we had been invited to enlist as the co-workers of an angel!

He instructed us to receive with kindness the unhappy Spirits who would enter our circle-to adapt our conversation with them, in every case, to the peculiar characteristics of the individual with whom we might be speaking, being governed therein by our knowledge of human nature, and exercising the same tact, sincerity and prudence, which we would use in conversing with a fellow mortal under like circumstances. "They will always," said he, "relate enough of their past history to give you the proper clue."

Numbers have come to our circle, and related the sad stories of their earthly lives, all of which are faithfully recorded. They would fill a volume if published. I give below one of these relations" as a specimen. Let it be remembered, however, that these histories are exceedingly various, each being the memoir of an individual possessing all the distinctive traits which constitute a separate and conscious identity. They are filled with incidents of thrilling interest, and exhibit life-like pictures of scenes once really performed in the great drama of life, by actors who long ago retired from the stage of mortal existence.

I must refer once more to the "GUARDIAN SPIRIT" of our circle. He is always with us when we meet, and his language and deportment toward each one of us are those of a tried, inti-

His teachings breathe the spirit of pure religion and heavenly to abandon their depraved courses and enter upon the path lead- they embrace a sphere of plain, practical duties, and exhibit the

He is sometimes severe. I have myself received from his lips as we mortals measured it—time, which was as nothing to him served and thankfully received. I do not believe that an evil habit can be persisted in by a member of this circle. He must quit one or the other. But of this more anon. He gave us the name of "Progressionists," and calls ours the "Circle of Progression." He urges upon us "purity of life." "The Spirits," this glorious being. It would occupy too much space. It may he says, "who come to you for counsel, can read your hearts, and be given to the world at no distant day, provided the cause of if they perceive that your practices do not correspond with the precepts you give, they will turn away and ask in surprise, How can we receive advice from such a source !"

From personal experience and observation, occurring within the past few months, I am almost persuaded that it is impossible the medium by a suitable process of development, and that if niously organized, without receiving such impressions as will insure its progression.

The Spirit whose story, as related by himself on the evenings of July 25th and August 19th last, I subjoin, is that of a person of extraordinary talents and distinguished accomplishments -a cotemporary of the celebrated Cagliostro, whose successful simulation of titled personages, and perpetration of long-undetected forgeries, are yet among the traditions of the past age, still recollected in several of the European cities. But written language has no power to convey an adequate idea of the effect, the thrilling pathos, of this "relation" as uttered by the Spirit speaker. The members of the circle sat absorbed, electrified, enchained by his magic eloquence. He wielded our emotions with resistless power, as the tempest drives before it and whirls into fantastic forms the mists and clouds of the surrounding atmosphere. But like effects are of frequent occurrence, and our circles are scenes, not of speaking alone, but of inimitable acting. Every character, true to life, stands forth in its own identity. That poor deluded one, the deceived and abandoned maiden the strange old woman, with her extravagant fictions, the wretched miser still hugging the chains that bind him to heaps of imaginary gold, while vainly struggling to break them; the robber, the ssin, the parricide, the victim of intemperance, the scoffer, each is presented with all the lineaments of distinct individuality. No orator, however accomplished; no actor, with all the advantages of stage effect; no painter, however skillful, has at any time (as we believe) so swayed and captivated at once the passions and the intellect. The theater, the opera, the pulpit, the forum, the senatorial hall, are tame and common-place, compared with the masterly displays of eloquence, histrionic power and ideal scenic effect exhibited before us, assembled around the table in our humble apartment. EBENEZER ALLEN.

THE FORGER'S TALE.

The medium entranced assumes the posture of a most perfect penman, and her hand passes rapidly over the paper, in imagination before her. The attitude is very graceful and the hand free and rapid in execution. Negligently casting aside the pen (in

"That's what I could do," exclaimed the Spirit; "and" (cross-

Give me but a glimpse of your signature, and I could instate it at sneered at by all! * so perfectly that you yourself could not detect the raud. It was haustless wealth!

every land. The millionaire was my slave-my tenant, at will, unworthy of your acceptance. of the vast accumulations he doted on with more than a mother's love, and guarded with more than a miser's care.

"At the hotels in the various cities where I chose to so- perfumed by bouquets sent me by the beauties of the land! journ, I was received with distinguished deference. I had my suites of rooms in each-my private parlor and dining-room, and and entrancing odors captivated the senses and lulled the chafed their food. I will-will DIE!" spirit to repose. My opinions were quoted as authority; my acquaintance was sought as an honor. Attracted by the report of my munificence, the élite of many climes flocked to my distress.) drawing-rooms, to gaze upon the ornate but tasteful profusion of or ring, or breast-pin, costing six hundred, eight hundred or a it, sir; it gives me pleasure thus to oblige you!-'tis a mere bagatelle."

"How did I exult in deceiving and mystifying the old fogies, past." and in evading suspicion, investigation or pursuit! Secure in the concealment of profound disguises, I often amused myself by reading in the public papers accounts of the perpetration of ingenious and dark forgeries, whereby large amounts of money had been mysteriously and fraudulently obtained, leaving no trace of the delinquent.

of my intended victims, and perhaps in half an hour afterward, were all I required.

suspicion rested upon my name. There, for the pitiful sum of but I am too far gone." five hundred dollars, I, who had drawn with impunity ten, twenty, and fifty thousand at a time-for the trifling amount of five hun-resumed): dred dollars-was" (here he held up to view his wrists, as if manacled,) "handcuffed and imprisoned!

"I, but now the sought, the honored, the rich, the flattered-O horror! it can not be! No, 'tis a dreadful dream, and I shall the place where I now am better than the loathsome dungeon awake. Awake? Ah, when! I, the companion of princes, they had placed me in. Loathsome, indeed, and the more so caught, and like a common felon, handcuffed and imprisoned! from the luxury I had lived in-more so from my perfumed O how fallen! The law has at length fastened upon its victim. baths and the delicacies gathered from the four quarters of the In vain I struggle in its fatal meshes. There is neither conceal-globe, upon which I had feasted; for I had possessed the means ment nor flight, and I stand, the gaze of gaping crowds, about to of continued enjoyment, and the more I had the more I wanted. become the tenant of a dungeon! I yield me; I succumb to My pursuits demanded perpetual activity, and the excitements of

"Where are ye now, companions of my revels? Will ye your own hand-writing. You would swear that it was no imitacome and take me by the hand? Ah, 'tis not so soft—so white tion. It was perfect in all its parts-not a shade of difference -so cleanly as when ye last grasped it; and these fingers, meto the most practiced eye. Your deposits in bank, be they five thinks, no longer glitter with diamonds. Still I am the same; thousand or fifty thousand dollars-it mattered not-were mine! I have not changed! Then why your scoffs? Why turn away I could draw them out and transfer them to my own pocket. as if my touch were pollution? Ye have feasted upon the deli-Such was my practice; and so profound were my disguises, so cacies which graced my table; ye have praised the qualities of perfect my art, so flattering my impunities, that I defied discov- my champagne, imported direct from France; ye have approved ery. I laughed to scorn the fruitless vigilance of your police. the fashion of my garments, and borrowed my coat in order to Thousands were always mine, and I reveled in the dream of ex- have your own made precisely like it. Perhaps ye would like it now for a pattern, soiled and begrimed though it be by the "I traveled through all the countries of middle and southern dirt and filth of my dungeon's floor? Ah, no! the style has Europe in a style of princely magnificence. I enjoyed all the changed; it is too antiquated! Well, my boots-will they please luxuries that wealth could purchase or prestige command. All you better? True, they lack their recent polish, but they are at pleasures coveted by desire, pursued by passion or pictured by your service. No! say ye again? Ah, they, too, have become fancy, were mine. The banks and mercantile houses of the con- stale; they are at least a month old! What say ye then, to my tinent were but the depositories of my wealth. I was a prince, apartment—the delicacies of my table—my bread and water? and my subjects, helpless and unconscious, were the wealthy of Shall I offer you these? Your pardon, friends; they, too, are

> "Ah, how often have ye loanged upon my silken ottomans, and been fanned by the zephyrs that played through my rooms

"They desert me now; I can administer no longer to their caprices or their pleasures. Can I outlive my imprisonment? for associates, some of the choice bloods of the place. How taste- Can I survive my disgrace? Can I retrieve my position in secifully were my apartments decorated and furnished! The choicest ety, or again reach the sphere in which I was wont to move? gems, rare antiques, the chef d'œuvres of the painter and the Impossible! Ab, branded with these damning stains-impossculptor, the skillful workmanship of renowned artists, collected in sible! Then farewell world! farewell hope! Let them withdraw course of my pereginations, glittered and shone in my cabinets. the means of self-destruction; they can not compel me to live-Choice wines and rich viands crowned my tables, while soft music they can not force me to eat. I will starve. I will not touch (Here a pause of perhaps a minute ensued, the medium lean-

"O the agonies of starvation! But my soul was resolved. I my establishment, and admire the brilliant display of my bijou- grew weaker day by day, and the pangs of hunger became more trie. And how often, when some distinguished personage has and more intense. They resorted to every expedient-every artiexpressed his admiration of this rare gem, or that diamond seal, fice in their power-to shake my resolution. They placed food before me, but I remained firm, although my feeble hand would thousand dollars, have I replied, "Do me the honor of accepting involuntarily creep toward it, as if attracted like iron to the magnet. Yet I would not touch it. Instantly resuming all my firmness, I would shrink back, as if horrified by the tempting re-> (Here the Spirit ceased to speak for the evening. He did not return until the 19th of August, when he resumed as follows):

"O, hard to resist! O nature, wilt thou never succumb! What demon is it that places the repast before me, whom I have so often besought to spare me that pang! See those tempting viands! O, hard to resist! They have spread them out before "If industry be a virtue, then did I possess that virtue; for I me. My mouth, my tongue, my heart, my breast-how they was indefatigable. I was half a dozen different persons the writhe-how goad me to eat! And still I can resist! One same day! At one time 'a porter,' I would enter some large drop of water-but a drop; it can not prolong life a great mercantile establishment in pursuit of labor; at another a lady, while!" (The medium went through the form of transferring a making purchases of goods at the counter. In some way I was drop of water, as from a tumbler, with the end of her finger to sure to obtain a view of the signatures I wished to imitate; under her tongue.) "O, I could drink oceans! But to live and be some contrivance I would secure a specimen of the handwriting pointed at by the finger of scorn, and then hung up for the idle rabble to gaze on! O no! far better as it is. Here no one sees I was in possession of their gold. My means were simple. A me-no one looks on and laughs at my despair. Let them think little paint to create a few wrinkles, false whiskers, and false hair, they have conquered my resolution—that I have weakly yielded -that I have partaken their food. Aye, let them believe! but "Thus I successively traversed the great cities of Europe, and when the keeper comes to lead me forth to execution, he will levied vast contributions with impunity. Not till I returned to find nothing but this poor frame. And then let them look; my native land was I ever charged with crime. Not a shade of their eyes will gaze on no one. They may try to resuscitate me,

(The medium passed through the death-scene, and the Spirit

"And thus I laid off the flesh to molder in the dust-food for worms. My soul released-released? aye-from earthly bondage, to be again enchained in another sphere. But I find even destiny! Yesterday, the gayest of the gay-the bright particu- danger successively gave zest to the consciousness of security.

ng his wrists as if handcuffed) "this is what it brought me to! lar star in fashion's dazzling firmament! Now, scorned—pointed These, in endless series, became to me necessary. Without them I should have become imbecile before thirty. Wonder not, then, that my prison was loathsome to a degree; nay, with its cheap diet and want of all attention to cleanliness or health, insuffer-

> "But when they found that I was resolved upon starvation, then how were their charitable bosoms agitated with affected emotions! 'Shall the great forger—the millionaire,' said they, be allowed to starve himself to death in our midst? No salvation for the suicide! He must not escape the scaffold, else we, perhaps, may have to answer for the loss of his soul.' Then followed the most liberal offers of food, which they knew beforehand I would not partake of. My table was loaded with viands, and in the solitude of my dungeon, the dreary hoplessness imaged upon every stone in the grim walls I gazed on, aggravated by the tortures of voluntary inanition, contrasted strangely with the rich banquet so temptingly placed before me.

> "Then, because I refused and perished, how did they denounce me! I had deprived the multitude of an interesting spectaclethe pleasure of gazing upon my suspended form! Was it not unpardonable? 'Did I not stop on my way,' says one, 'to see the execution, and now I believe he is dead.' 'Yes, send for the doctor,' cries another. 'How ungrateful!' exclaims the keeper; see what heaps of food! see how I feed my prisoners!" I hear them call me 'accursed!' (for I was there,) I hear them pronounce me in tones of execration, 'such an ingrate!' 'such a sinner !'-and I enjoy the scene.

"Then, I see them bring in a plain deal coffin. They place my body upon a truckle. The doctors are busy with my remains. The crowd look on with callous indifference, and my mangled form is at length cast into the rude deal box, and borne by two under-turnkeys, consigned in the most indecent manner to unhallowed earth.

"I then felt my body polluted. My companion in so many ing her forehead upon her hand and appearing to be in great adventures—the material recipient of so many proud decorations -the participator of princely wealth and princely honors! How mortifying to behold the form lately so cherished and so prized, now treated with such contumely!

"But while my sympathies thus dwelt upon my lifeless dust, (strange indeed!) I never once thought of the condition in which I had placed my soul. O soul! O Spirit! how much more akin to God art thou than the flesh! My name has ceased to be remembered; but many, even of the second generation, long held me in remembrance. Ah, they had good cause to remember

"Now, here I am; and although my condition is anything but pleasant, yet I know I can progress!

"Friends, since last I visited your circle, a change has come over me. True, I see no light, but I have hope. I say, therefore, my condition is better than when in an earthly prison, for then I had no hope! A sinner beyond redemption about to become a suicide-what ray of promise could penetrate the darkness to which I was consigned, ex cathedra! The creed of the established Church—the Bible, as interpreted by reverend and infallible authority-the dogmas of a mystic but venerable theology which I was taught from childhood to believe in-all condemned the unforgiven to the doom of eternal suffering in a Jake of fire. And I believed it; I believed I would so burn and burn forever! There, I had no hope; here, I have. And when at length, O friends! I shall have reached a sphere of light, then will I return and proclaim the glorious news to those in darkness and despair. When the bright dawn is risen, I will come back to you on wings of joy, and tell you that God is Love. Purer influences prevail; I withdraw me from evil associates, and plead with my superiors to lead me up those rugged rocks."

Note.-The Spirit remarked that we might have heard of him as "The Great Forger" of the last age, a name by which he was called after the detection of his delinquency. He said he did not come for advice or instruction-there were those with him able and willing to impart both-but in order to ascend to a higher plane, he came to relate to the circle the outline of his history while in the natural form, and of his subsequent state.

Touching the series of "relations" to which I have referred, there is one peculiarity running through all, and to which there is no exception, namely, the unsparing severity with which these Spirit speakers denounce their sinful conduct while on earth. They will permit nothing to be alleged in excuse or extenuation of their crimes, and often speak of their earthly selves in terms of such bitter consure and reproach as to raise the impression that they are speaking of their hated and detested

"I met my doom at last," says the parricide; "and no one ever more richly deserved it. Why did they not extract all the blood in my veins, drop by drop? That might possibly have been some atonement for my crimes-but no! not if it had been oceans!"

But I am writing too much. I should be glad, however, to elicit opinion, and awaken renewed interest in the cause of human Progress Ever yours,

SPIRITUALISM UNFAVORABLE TO ATHEISM.

BY DR. HARE.

FROM the opinion sanctioned by Mr. Tiffany, that Spiritualism has been atheistic in its tendency, I entirely dissent. So discordant with a belief in spiritual existence is atheism, that the atheistic members of the Sunday Institute have been as difficult to convert as any believers in the divinity of Christ. Hence it is manifest that there is no tendency on the part of atheism toward Spiritualism; however, in Mr. Tiffany's opinion, Spiritualism may have a tendency toward atheism.

There are two grounds which may be taken with an orthodox Christian, which cannot be taken with an atheist: first, that as human testimony is the only evidence of the facts or occurrences recorded in Scripture, this testimony should be admitted as evidence in other cases; and secondly, that the credibility of Spirit manifestations, as compared with the alleged revelations, or inspirations of Scripture, must be as the reliability of the witnesses in the one case, to their reliability in the other.

But atheists, not having adopted any religious belief in obedience to human testimony, are not inconsistent in denying its competency in the instance of Spiritualism.

The great obstacle to a belief in the existence of a Deity, on the part of atheists, is their incapacity to conceive of the existence of mind, independently of that ponderable matter which to them appears to be the basis of all the phenomena of the Universe. Hence they are called Materialists. When through the Spirit manifestations, any one is convinced that there may be beings endowed with reason and mechanical power, and that the minds of their departed friends exist in another world, concentric with the terrestrial surface, the obstacle to the existence of a Deity, exercising similar reason and power, to an extent commensurate with the vastness of the universe, is removed.

I have stated, both in my lectures and in my work on Spiritualism, that my having always believed in the spiritual power of God, made it easy for me to believe a similar power to exist in other spiritual beings, however minute, comparatively. But is not the converse equally evident, that if there can be comparatively minute beings who can neutralize gravity and vis inertiae, so as to move weight without weight; that gravity and vis inertice, being dependent on volition, may owe their existence to the volition of some being who may possess intellectual power almost infinitely superior to those whose existences have been demonstrated?

All the Spirits are believers in God, so far as I have learned. A reviewer in the N. Y. Tribune alleged, that in the communications from the Spirits there was too much of what he called "Theosophy." So far as my judgment goes, the Spirits refer to God quite as often as would seem reasonable.

The strongest argument in favor of the existence of a Creator, is that the universe can not be conceived to be self-created. To this the atheist replies, that the assumption of a Creator, as the cause, involves that Creator to be self-created; and inasmuch as such a being must be more wonderful than his supposed works, it is at least as unreasonable to assume him to be self-created as to make this claim for those works. But manifestly self-creation either in one case or in the other, is impossible; since the exercise of the creative power can not precede its own existence. The maker must exist, before he can exercise the power of making.

But as the necessity on the part of the Creator for self-creation, is avoided by attributing to him eternity, so the necessity of selfcreation on the part of the universe may be avoided, by the supposition of eternal endurance. In this stage of the argument, I would urge, the existence of the material universe enduring from eternity, is not more evident than the display of a governing mind therewith associated; and that the existence of a governing mind thus manifested, is as undeniable as the existence of the matter which it governs. This governing mind, wherever or however it may exist, is God.

The Materialist appeals to experience, that mind can not move and control matter. The idea that the will of God can be identified with gravitation, vis inertia, chemical affinity, or electro-polar to all human experience. But this objection is removed when, man's present and future progress is retarded.

through the facts with which spirital manifestations make us acquainted, we see that the weightless Spirits of our departed friends can actuate ponderable matter and so move it, as to display reason in the result. It may therefore be inferred that the tendency of Spiritualism is altogether favorable to a belief in the possibility of that control of matter by mind, which, when wanting in any person, makes him incredulous that any being can exist who controls all things by his volition. Of course the tendency of Spiritualism is the opposite of that which has been alleged by my esteemed Brother Tiffany,

DEVELOPMENT vs. DEITY.

MESSRS. EDITORS :

Noticing an article in your piper of November 1, under the heading of "Development Theory," by Wm. S. Andrews, wherein he deprecates the atheistical tendency of the development theory. induces me to offer a few comments suggested to my mind by it.

The evidences that the "Development Theory" is the true record of Nature's past operations, are so strongly confirmed by geological, astronomical, chemical and ethnological researches, that probably no philosopher now living attempts to gainsay them. That they conflict with prevalent theological notions is also evident, from the strenuous efforts made by divines to resist or to explain away their obvious effects. This seems to be the purpose of Mr. Andrews, who fears that Spiritualism will not prosper unless relieved of the dium. That there should be no objection on this score, is the purport of my present showing.

And first, let me ask why should the belief of a Deity be popularized? As opinions are formed from evidence, and therefore involuntary, an individual deserves neither praise nor censure for entertaining them. The despotism of coercing professions, we know to be the great cause of hypocrisy-a vice universally condemned. That honest sentiments should be freely expressed, is the spirit of this republican age, and as universally admitted, for unless an earnestness and sincerity are manifested, no progress in knowledge or virtue will ever be made. These axioms embrace all topics, spiritual and mundane, and are too evident to need further exemplication.

With the basis established, let us proceed to conclusions. The evidences concerning Deity are as varied as the individualities. What one mind admits, another rejects, and this, too, in perfect sincerity. Why? Because our organisms vary. Intellect flowing from a brain in which veneration, wonder and constructiveness preponderate, will search for a superior power that it supposes must have created all it observes. Another having large organs of comparison, causality and strong perceptive faculties, observes that his own powers are finite, and that finite powers can never comprehend the infinite. And as Deity must be infinite, all knowledge concerning it is therefore utterly precluded. Hence such an intellect sees an utter absurdity and worse than foolish waste of time that must inevitably result in such speculations. The arguments pro and con. being about equal, and depending almost wholly upon the organization of the individual, bid fair to be earnestly discu-sed both here and hereafter, indefinitely, without the possibility of arriving at any demonstrations.

In this state of the question, the utilitarian asks what good arises from believing in a Deity at all? Does belief make a man wiser or better? Certainly not; for it is involuntary, and looking to its past influence, history will be searched in vain to show that mere belief ever reformed any moral, social or political evil. Belief is the handmaid of Ignorance, causing men to follow false lights that never lead to knowledge. Knowledge alone stimulates action that attains the truth. Belief, never doubting, is the silken cord of indolence that makes man the willing slave of superstition and despotism. The immoralities, cruelties and miseries which darken the pages of history, can be traced directly to them, for superstition and despotism shun the light of knowledge and liberty. The Reformer finds belief the great stumbling-block and enemy that waylays and destroys his efforts in hastening the beyond myself and the one I examine. progress of mankind from their state of primeval ignorance and disordered conditions, to the glorious era when knowledge, truth and universal justice shall prevail.

To the skeptic (or truth-seeker) the causes of belief are even more reprehensible than the results. Money, the representative of industry and economy, is everywhere levied in enormous sums by king and priestly parasites, to inculcate and perpetuate orthodox notions or belief. Thus despotism preys upon the wealth of attraction and repulsion, seems too great a postulate in opposition industry and skill, and perpetuates its own aggrandizement, and Belief in a Deity, one would think, should cost nothing, and yet we can see that it is the most expensive and disastrous to his temporal interests that man has ever entertained. As nothing better than poverty and social degradation is offered to atheism, the latter, instead of being loaded with obloquy, alone can fully claim exemption from sinister motives.

Nor is belief in a Deity pertinent to Spiritualism. To assert that Deity governs the universe by the uniform and certain laws observed by us in Nature's operations, is but delifying the lawsa new change of words, not worth a controversy. For such a Deity, if one exists, can be of no greater consequence hereafter than here—a mere passive or inert cypher. The only Deity who can be feared by us, is one possessing an arbitrary and capricious will-a character which any theologian would consider blasphemous, and which I, too, am unwilling to admit the existence of upon mere belief. GEORGE B. SMITH.

Sandusky, O., December 8, 1856.

CLAIRVOYANT DIAGNOSTICATIONS.

MESSRS. PARTRIDGE AND BRITTAN

Much has been said about Clairvoyants being governed by sympathy in their medical examinations. Now it may be so in some cases, but, judging from personal experience, I think it cannot be sympathy independent of some governing intelligence. Sometimes when circumstances are favorable, I cannot give an examination, and, vice versa. I will here relate one or two instances connected with my own experience.

One one occasion, when visiting a friend, an unbeliever except so far as she had confidence in my word, I was relating to her some of my experience in giving examination, when she remarked that she had a friend whom she had heard by another friend was quite unwell, and she wished I could tell what ailed her. The next moment I saw, as with my natural eyes, what the disease was, and gave all the symptoms of the case. I was apparently fn my normal state, with my eyes open, and perfectly conscious, although I felt Spirit influence very sensibly. I do not recollect whether I felt any of the symptoms of the disease, but merely saw with my spiritual vision.

My friend did not know that I was correct, but subsequently learned that the symptoms were correct in every particular. I felt anxious about the prescription being suitable for the disease, as it was among some of my first examinations; but on informing a physician of the examination, and of what was prescribed, he said, providing you are correct in the disease, you could not have given a better prescription.

Another instance: A gentleman from another state sent me a lock of his hair, desirous of medical examination. I seated myself in a passive state, with the lock of hair in my hand quite a number of times, but could not get any impressions of his case, although I gave other examinations in the mean time, until one evening, a person called for an examination, and when I became entranced, instead of giving the person present one, I mentioned the name of the gentleman in question, and not only gave the symptoms of his case, but the cause of the disease, and also the medicine he was then taking, and its effect, which all proved to Those two instances satisfy me that I had control over the matter, and that some intelligence beyond myself, was showing me those things. I am not always influenced alike in giving examinations. Sometimes I both see the diseased condition and feel the symptoms. Sometimes I see the disease without any sympathetic feelings. Other times I feel the pains and tell the cause by impression. I find I am influenced in a way that will have the most effect upon the mind of the individual, and tend most to convince him of Spirit presence. The language used by Jesus is truly applicable to me: "I can do nothing of myself;" and when I feel this the most I am the most successful.

However others may give their examinations, I am fully persuaded that I am governed in mine by some intelligence both E. W. S.

Profits of Grapes.—The culture of green-house grapes, within twenty miles of Boston, is quite extensive, and the amount of money invested in houses for their growth must be reckoned by hundreds of thousands of dollars. There are several growers who have annual crops of from one to five tuns, commanding a price of from $1 to $3 the pound, varying with the season in which the crop is ripened. In the neighborhood of Cincinnati there are more than two thousand acres in grapes. The profits per year, average, taking one year with another, about $500 per acre. The cost of planting ranges $100 to $300 per acre. The expense, with ordinary land, need not exceed $150

"Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind."

S. B. BRITTAN, EDITOR.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1856.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

[CHICAGO, ILL., December 1, 1856. READERS OF THE TELEGRAPH:

At length I find myself in the lion city of the great West, and the delirious excitement of the gold worshipers and the chaotic mingling of all material interests and earthly pursuits. This place is certainly a miracle of its kind. No other city ever sprang from nothing into such stately proportions and Herculean strength, in so short a time. The unvarnished account of its rise, progress, present condition, and future prospects would have appeared to our fathers like an oriental legend; and to those who have only witnessed the slow development of the century-nursed cities of the East, it may appear fabulous, even now. Where only some fifteen years ago there were a few scattered buildings of an inferior class to diversify the scene, and the low prairie seemed scarcely elevated above the surface of the adjacent Lake, now a magnificent city, containing more than one hundred thousand inhabitants, is spread out around me, with splendid hotels and immense commercial warehouses which are only equaled in size and architectural embellishments by the noblest structures on the principal avenues in New York.

The living Spirit of the Mechanic Arts is here, clothing itself with new forms that start into visible existence almost in a day, and startling the world with new revelations of hidden beauty and measureless power. Not ten years since, the visitor might have seen-along Lake-street and other principal avenuesboards set up to admonish the careless traveler that in the particular localities thus marked, "no bottom" had been discovered; yet from these low marshy grounds-where a trench dug to the depth of twelve inches would immediately be filled with watervast piles of stone and iron, wrought into the grandest and most enduring forms of modern architecture, now rise on every hand, and with such astonishing rapidity that one can hardly believe they are substantial things. The waters now find subterranean channels beneath the broad avenues; the distant hills are laid move before the soul amid the early twilight shadows of its conlow, and the elements that composed them are spread over the scious immortal life. surface of the great city, so that the very ground on which it stands seems to be gradually rising out of the sea. Thus it appears before us in its young pride, like a stately Colossus, with the nether extremities on both sides of the Chicago river; the brow, which is turned toward the great Lake, is wreathed with stormclouds, while far back over the land falls the shadow of the brawny form.

But Chicago presents many of the irregularities and crudities incidental to sudden revolutions and a rapid development. Viewed in one aspect, it reminds us of an overgrown boy with an immense vital apparatus, large body and long limbs, an exuberance of feeling which prompts an instinctive resistance of all restraint, and with an acquisitiveness which impels him to lay his hands on everything. The vigorous youth has frequently more faith in his muscles than he has respect for age or wisdom. He loves to talk of his dimensions, and of his ability to grapple with all the old men in the neighborhood. Chicago illustrates this spirit ment of the present writer) far more subversive of its true inteby example. Since I came here I have learned that there are rests than the most virulent assaults of its enemies. In the three other places of some importance in the country, viz., New York, Boston and Philadelphia. It is suspected that the first-personal affairs of the editor—in which the public are not espenamed place may be obstinate enough to dispute the question of cially concerned; with the slang language and opinions of party supremacy with Chicago for the next fifty years. The other places, it is confidently expected, will retire from the contest at of wealth, intelligence, and apparent respectability; with the thunan earlier day. A city thus peopled by master spirits of public der and dust of an unreasoning and noisy crusade against the enterprise and the devotees of fortune, from different parts of the iniquity of "high rents" and the accumulation of large fortunes world—all so deeply absorbed and intensely active in the various pursuits of business as to make the whole town resemble a boiling sea—must necessarily exhibit many contrarieties which might be deemed unpleasant or offensive to people of a rigid discipline imaginary) long suffered by one who seemingly covets nothing and fastidious taste. The rapid increase of the population does from the world unless it be a crown of martyrdom. All these not admit of a complete assimilation. The intellectual, moral and sundry other things, are tumbled together into the editorial of promise in which we trace at once the history and the prophand dirty exterior at present; but it is not exactly fair to criticise the personal appearance or the manners of a youth while he is growing rapidly. He must first have time to develop his physical powers and to stretch himself into the neighborhood of his ultimate dimensions, before we can reasonably expect him to be either well dressed or to exhibit the refinements of deliberate culture and mature reflection. If Chicago is but true to the intellectual, moral and spiritual interests of her citizens, and to the triumphs of the most daring imagination.

have no rational grounds for the expectation that its spiritual ad- which I will record in this place. vancement, at least for some time to come, will be at all commensurate with the increase of population and the extension of natural worlds-illustrated by infinitely diversified phenomenaand the idle vagaries of undisciplined and disordered minds whose sight only enable them to discern obscure and distorted images of spiritual realities. It is recorded of the man whose natural sight was restored, that in the first moment of returning and imperfect vision, he saw "men as trees walking;" and it is reasonable to infer that many who are but just beginning to feel the inward quickening which is to "open the blind eyes" to the vast realm of invisible and divine things, may at first receive only dim

Among the persons in this city who have, for some time past, professed an intimate acquaintance with the principles of Spiritualism, and an earnest desire for its future progress and final triumph, I am constrained to make particular reference to Mr. Seth Paine, who-in the exercise of his constitutional privilege-has assumed the highly responsible position of a public teacher, and is now editing and publishing a paper, under the name and title of "Seth Paine's Chicago Banker." I desire to record my settled conviction that Mr. Paine is actuated by an honest desire to advance the truth and to promote the best interests of Humanity; at the same time the present writer is equally well assured that the course he is pleased to adopt is in no way adapted to secure these desirable ends. A rational Spiritualism is not very likely to be promoted by such journals as the Banker. Its editor manifestly has no clear or comprehensive views of its philosophy, and his crude attempts to explain and defend it are (in the judgcolumns of the Banker we find Spiritualism mixed up with the politicians; with vituperative attacks, committed against persons with blunderbuss explosions against the institution of marriageagainst the numerous persecutions (provoked in part, and partly character of the place to be fashioned. That everything will be though the sensible reader may be inclined to do the bolting on a grand scale, and that Chicago is destined, ere long, to be a himself after an examination of the first grist. I know of no one, great center, not only of commercial enterprise but of creative amongst those whose spiritual constitutions are in a normal state, art and religious progress, no one can doubt who has witnessed who would be able to digest and assimilate such a heterogeneous the bold beginning it has made, and rightly interpreted the signs compound. If we may abruptly change the figure, Spiritualism, as clothed from Mr. Paine's wardrobe, is neither fit to appear in esy of its unrivaled prosperity. True, Chicago presents a ragged the halls of Science nor the temples of Religion. It rather looks as if it were dressed for a masquerade. And without cherishing one feeling of unkindness toward the editor of the Banker, the writer must be allowed to offer the suggestion that Mr. Painein his public capacity-would perhaps render the most efficient service to Spiritualism by not trying to serve it at all.

I have several facts in Spiritualism to relate, but must reserve all except the following examples until a more convenient season, when I have time to get my scattered notes together and to put demands of the age, her Furure may even transcend the ideal them in proper form. Mr. S. C. Moses, of Chicago, formerly of Pittsfield, Mass., in the course of a private interview with the Spiritual ideas have not advanced in Chicago in proportion to writer, related several instances of spiritual agency which had octhe rapid development of the place in all the elements and achieve- curred under his own observation, and through the mediumship ments of physical power and temporal prosperity. Indeed, we of Marcus L. Marble, of South Adams, Mass., two examples of

In the autumn of 1854, when Mr. and Mrs. Moses, together with several other friends, were assembled at the house of Mr. its mechanical and commercial interests. This is agreeable to John Brown, Mr. Marble was entranced and proceeded to dethe divine, natural order of development, as indicated by an an- scribe a man who kept a store in that village. The delineation cient spiritual philosopher: "First, that which is natural [physi- was minute, both with respect to the person and dress of the incal], and afterward that which is spiritual." But I am constrained dividual. The medium declared that the man he had described to believe that the eccentric and chimerical character of much contemplated firing a building, which was also described in genethat has hitherto passed for genuine Spiritualism, has served to ral terms. Within four weeks of that time a dwelling was condiscourage and repel many honest and truth-loving people, and sumed, and on the same night a store in the village was set on led them to disregard even the legitimate claims of this most im- fire; but the flames were extinguished before extensive damage portant subject. It is true that a clearer perception and a more was done to the latter. Suspicion rested on Mr. Bigelow, the deliberate judgment would have enabled all persons of this class proprietor of the store, whose person and dress had been most to distinguish between the eternal principles of the spiritual and accurately described by the medium. Bigelow was tried and convicted, and is now in the State prison.

On Saturday night, whilst Mr. Marble was yet awake, he was half-developed faculties of intellectual perception and interior suddenly influenced by a Spirit, and had a vision in which the mangled form of a man was presented. He saw the form, face and position of the body, most vividly, and on Sunday morning related what he had seen, with singular minuteness, comprehending in his delineation the features, complexion, color of the hair and style of wearing the beard. On the following Wednesday, Obadiah Carver, of Pittsfield, Mass., was instantly killed while walking on the railroad, at a distance of about one mile from the and uncertain impressions from the vailed yet glorious forms that village. The body was brought to Pittsfield by the same train, and Mr. Moses hearing of the occurrence, called on Mr. Marble and asked him to accompany him to the depot. On the way, Marble suddenly felt the influence of the Spirit that had visited him on the preceding Saturday night. As the subtile presence diffused its influence over his body and through the avenues of sensation, the medium remarked most positively, that the man they were going to see was the one he had previously seen in his vision. All this was strictly verified by an examination of the body, the features, complexion, color of the hair and peculiar cut of beard, all corresponding to the medium's description.

> It is especially worthy of remark that Mr. Marble was an Infidel, in the common acceptation of the term, not believing either in the future life or a revealed religion; but his recent experience has unsettled the foundations of his former skepticism, and established in his mind-on the immovable basis of demonstrated facts and a rational philosophy-the sublime conviction that the soul is indestructible, and that all its inconceivable powers of thought and fathomless depths of feeling are preserved and unfolded in the immortal life.

My course of four lectures, delivered in this city in the early part of last week, attracted a somewhat numerous and highly intellectual class of citizens. On Sunday, especially in the evening, the place occupied by the Spiritualists was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the subsequent lectures in South Market Hall also drew together large and appreciative audiences. The invitation to lecture in Chicago was extended to the writer by the well-known and enterprising firm of Higgins Brothers, dealers in music and musical istruments. These gentlemen are worthy to rank among the first 'live men in this living city, more especially as they are made alive by the new infusion of the spiritual element. May the sun of their prosperity and the light of their example shine through the opening portals of many years, and the life on earth be rendered supremely glorious by and religious elements have yet to find their equilibrium, and the hopper, and they come out of the mill without being bolted, an unwavering devotion to human and divine uses!

Mr. Edward Hamelton and his lady, formerly of Bridgeport, any country a man in so elevated a position who is so humble and Com.; A. J. Higgins-of the above mentioned firm-and his youthful companion, and Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Moses, have placed the writer under obligations for their kind offices; while at the peasant residence of H. M. Higgins, Esq., I have been most corfially entertained. Mr. H. has not heretofore professed to be a Spiritualist, and the manly frankness and generous hospitality which he has been pleased to extend to a stranger and a reputed heretic, have excited my admiration and secured my lasting esteem. From the sunny sphere of his domestic scenes and relations a light has diffused itself over and around the mind and heart of the wanderer when he was far from the fondly cherished objects and the sacred joys of Home. The kindness of my noble friend and his truly amiable and intelligent lady will live among the golden memories of the passing year. s. B. B.

SCIENCE vs. SPIRITUALISM.

THE above is the title of a work, in two neatly bound volumes, of nearly five hundred pages each, just published, being a translation of the remarkable production of Count Agenor de Gasparin, embracing minute statements of several experiments he has instituted to test the origin of the so-called spiritual manifestations. The following table of contents, with the number of pages appropriated to each division of the subject, together with the introduction, will indicate the character of the work, and must suffice for the present issue. Price, for the two volumes, $2 50. For sale by Partridge & Brittan, office of this paper.

CONTENTS OF VOL. I. Part First.—Introduction, 4 pp.; Preface, 16 pp.; The Question, 14 pp.; The Facts, 61 pp.; The Objections, 75 pp.; Appendix, 22 pp. Part Second .- The Supernatural in general; The Question, 16 pp.; The Course to Pursue, 11 pp.; Value of Proof, and especially of Testimony, 11 pp.; Particular Grounds of Suspicion, 18 pp.; What saith the Scripture, 103 pp.; Natural Experiments of the Pretended Supernatural, 65 pp.

Vol. II .- Supernatural Apocrypha-False Miracles, 86 pp; Spurious Sorcery, 114 pp.; Animal Magnetism, 68 pp.; Spirits, 137 pp.; Conclusion, 45 pp. The following is the Introduction to this work;

Count Agenor de Gasparin, the author of the following work, is one of the most distinguished French Protestants of our times. His family is of Italian origin, as the name sufficiently indicates, and came, if we have been rightly informed, into France from the Island of Corsica more than a century ago. His father was a member of the Chamber of Peers in the reign of Louis Philippe, and for some years was Prefect of the Department of the Rhone. At one period he held the post of Minister of the Interior. He was also a member of one of the five "Academies which constitute the "Institute of France," and reckoned to be a man of highly respectable talents, and of extensive and solid attainments. Both father and son were warm supporters of the throne of Louis Philippe, and cherished for that monarch a very strong personal regard, which partook, we may say, of the nature of sincere friendship.

Count Gasparin spent the earlier part of his life at Paris, where he received an education corresponding with the distinguished rank of his family. He is a scholar, in the highest and best sense of the word-his acquirements being at once various and profound. He is the author of several interesting and important works, of which we may mention his Interets Generaux du Protestantisme Français, in one volume 8vo., and Christianisme et Paganisme, in 2 vols 8vo., as possessing far more than ordinary value for intelligent Christian readers of all countries.

To great advantages of personal appearance, Couat Gasparin unites the grace of most refined and elegant manners. Few men, in any country, have associated more constantly or more intimately with elevated and cultivated society, than he has done from early childhood. And it has been justy remarked of him, that "he unites the accomplishments of the courtier with the sincerity and benevolence of the

By inheritance, Count Gasparin possessed a handsome patrimonial property; and his resources have been greatly augmented by marriage with a Swiss lady of ample fortune, of the Canton de Vaud, in which country he has spent much of his time for the last ten or fifteen years.

Removed thus from the necessity of pursuing professional studies as a means of livelihood, he has devoted his time chiefly to writing works of a religious and philanthropic nature. His publications, counting or a rengrous as well as books, are already numerous, although he can not be much more, if at all, than forty-five or forty-eight years old, Besides these, he has written much for the journals, religious and secular.

Nor has the pen of Madame Gasparin been much less prolific than that of her husband. One of her earliest and largest works has had a wide circulation in France, and the French-speaking portions of the Countries circumjacent. It is entitled, Marriage from a Christian point I view. She has recently written much and strongly against the Insitutions of Protestant Deaconesses, which have begun to spring up in tion to that which is termed "Latitudinarian." It is rare to see in lin as medium.

spiritually-minded a follower of the Lamb. No man living, probably has stood up more courageously than he in behalf of the Gospel, and the religion which it teaches, in circumstances of the most trying nature. He has borne the "shame" which, in the estimation of too many of the great and fashionable people of this world, attaches to the 'Cross," and he has borne it well. He was the founder, in the year 1842, of a Society for the promotion of the Protestant interests-a Society which has done much for the protection of the religious and civil rights of the Protestants of France, as well as to alvance their interests in many other ways. He also took a very prominent part, a few years later, in the formation of the "Free Protestant Church of France," a church which renounces all connection with, and dependence on, the State and its patronage.

In the year 1842, Count Gasparin became a member of the Chamber of Deputies, having been elected to that branch of the French Legislature by the inhabitants of the Island of Corsica, a part of the kingdom in which there was, probably, less Protestantism than in any other. This was owing in part to the influence of his father, who had made many friends in that island when he was Minister of the Interior, and in part to the influence of Louis Philippe, to whom the Count was Master of Requests, a post of honor which gave him great adva. ages for familiar access to his Majesty.

During the few years he was a member of the Chamber of Deputies Count Gasparin delivered several speeches which reflected the highest honor on his talents as a logician and an orator, as well as on his courage as a man in fearlessly avowing and defending the true principles of Christianity. In particular, his efforts in behalf of Religious Liberty, both in the Senate and in the Courts of Law, were eminently able and effective-though far from being acceptable to the government, which was then rapidly succumbing to the influence of the Jesuits. In consequence of this he failed to be reelected to the Chamber of Deputies, and retired to the walks of private life.

Availing himself of the leisure which this state of things allowed him, and accompanied by Madame Gasparin, he made a long tour in the East, an interesting account of which the literary public of France has been in possession of for some years. It was whilst prosecuting his journey that he heard of the Revolution of 1848, and the downfall of his friend Louis Philippe. Without loss of time, he addressed the exiled Monarch a long and faithful letter, filled with sentiments eminently Christian and instructive.

Upon his return from his travels in the Holy Land and the adjacent countries, Count Gasparin took up his residence at the village of Valleyres, in the Canton de Vaud (Switzerland), where he has mainly, if not uninterruptedly, resided, in the midst of the friends and relatives of his wife, having no desire to live under the dynasty by which his native land is at present ruled.

It was there that, in the years 1853-54, his attention was called to the subject of the "Turning Tables," which was then exciting much in-terest in France and Switzerland. Believing that great evils were likely to result from the delusions to which the abuse of this phenomenon seemed to give rise, he applied himself conscientiously to the study of With the aid of personal friends in whom he could implicitly confide, he devoted several months to the investigation of the subject. He was stimulated to undertake the task, by seeing that the 'Academies," or branches of the Institute of France, whose province it is (or is supposed to be) to examine into all subjects which have any connection with Science, had refused to do so-contenting themselves with pronouncing dogmatically on the question, rather than collecting carefully the facts appertaining to it, and making the deductions which a sound philosophy demanded.

In the work, to which these few paragraphs respecting its author will serve as an introduction, the reader will find a very full account of the experiments which Count Gasparin and his friends made with so much care, and on so many occasions, and the conclusions to which he came. He will find also the Count's speculations on other, and, in a certain sense, kindred subjects; such as the Supernatural in general, the Agency of Spirits, False Miracles, Animal Magnetism, Spirit-Rappings, These topics are treated at length, with the vivacity which characterizes the French mind, and in the style in which it expresses its conceptions; and, so far as we are able to judge, with no ordinary abil-The translation-although by no means an easy task-has been well executed, and reflects great credit on the translator.

In conclusion, we can, from many years' acquaintance with the author, assure the readers of this work, that it is the production of a mind not likely to be satisfied with insufficient data, or misled by illogical deductions, and incapable of attempting to impose on others.

We have never seen the subject to which it relates treated with more patience of inquiry, or fairness of analysis and conclusion. It is the honest result of investigation prompted by an earnest desire to know the truth.

New Spiritualist Papers.
"Spiritual Clarion."—We have received the first four numbers of a new weekly spiritual paper bearing the above title. It is a royal oc tavo sheet of eight pages, edited and published by Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Clark, Auburn, N. Y., at $1 a year in advance for single copy.

"THE PRINCIPLE."-We had heard of a new monthly publication ers, No. 9 Spruce-street, New York. with this title, having just been started in this city, but, from some oversight, we presume, we were not furnished with a copy until just as our present issue was going to press. It is published by J. B. Conklin, the medium, at 477 Broadway, at the low price of fifty cents a year. We suppose it is designed to take the place of the Public Circus, and will

"IS IT HUMBUG ?"

UNDER the head of the above interrogatory, Mr. D. T. Averill, of Northfield, Vt., writes us expressing some serious doubts and perplexities concerning the reality of spiritual intercourse, into which his mind has of late been thrown by a circumstance which he states, in his own language, as follows:

A cousin of mine, resident in an adjoining town, had been wasting way with an internal disorder through the summer and fall until the hopes of his friends and the skill of his physicians had become exhausted—but all in vain. It became painfully evident that his days on earth were few. As a last resort, I addressed a letter to * * * who advertises himself as a wonderful healing medium, inclosing the requisite fee, together with the name, age and residence of the applicant. This letter bore date November 4th; was put in the Post-office on the 5th, so that it could not have arrived at its destination before the 7th. On the 6th, at noon, he died. Now here was a chance for a test. But judge of my disappointment to receive an answer to my letter, dated November 10th, stating that my cousin's case was curable! It contained the diagnosis of the disease, which was far from being correct. Who could wonder when the Spirit's home had been, for some days, a mass of inanimate clay?

In hopes this case will be explained so as not to bear against the truth of Spiritualism, nor the h nesty and good faith of individuals,

II remain yours. D. T. AVERILL.

As ca es analogous to the above l ave, in a few instances occurred before, and are liable to occur again, we give publicity to our correspondent's statement, and submit the following remarks as not only applicable to the difficulties presented in this instance, but, in a general way, to all similar ones

In any view of the subject, we think our correspondent should not allow the case which he states, to abate anything from that faith in spiritual intercourse which may be based upon the innumerable, irrefragable and unexceptionable facts which are of constant occurrence, as demonstrating that truth. At the worst view that can be taken of the subject, the medium, (real or pretended) to whom he refers, was simply dishonest, and for the purpose of pocketing a fee, professed to exercise powers which he knew he did not possess; but even in that case, the medium only should stand disproved, and not Spiritualism. But we see no necessity of imputing dishonesty to the medium, and hence, that he might not stand before the public in any unnecessarily sus picious light, we have left his name out of the above extract. He may from some unknown disturbing influence, have been honestly deceived in his impression, whilst at the same time sincerely laboring to perform the duties of his profession.

But his failure may be accounted for on still another hypothesis, which will leave his medium powers intact. Clairvoyants and mediums, we believe, generally, if not universally, profess to obtain their knowledge of the diseased conditions of the human body not so much from direct perceptions of the condition of the body itself, as from their perceptions of the state of the spirit as acted upon by the body, and affected in correspondence with its diseases. Now many incidental facts of spiritual manifestation might be cited to prove that for some time after the emergence of the spirit from the body, it still retains to itself the general sphere of its previous bodily conditions. If we suppose, then, that the medium referred to, came into rapport with the general spiritual sphere of our correspondent's deceased friend, (which he may, indeed, have done without a so recently disembodied spirit knowing the fact, and without his perceiving the spirit's disconnection from the earthly form) his diagnosis must have been based upon the impressions received from that sphere, in which there were in all likelihood still some of the elements of the previously diseased bodily conditions, with those changes effected by the sepation, which might have given rise to the difference between the description and the actual state of the body previous to its death.

Still, the professed medium, in this instance, may, as before intimated, have been dishonest without at all affecting the credibility of Spiritualism; but we would rather take a more charitable view of the case, if possible.

Dinsmore's Guide,

We have received a copy of the above Guide, and upon examination it appears to contain all the information necessary to travel throughout the United States and Canada, either by railroad, steamboat, or stage. The map is very full and perfect, containing the names of the principal towns, rivers, etc. Price, twenty five cents. Dinsmore & Co., publish-

The beantiful little article entitled "The Angel's Home," published on our third page last week, should have been credited to the New Church Herald and Monthly Repository,

The article entitled, "Confessions of Spirits," commencing on Count Gasparin is an earnest and zealous Protestant Christian, or what is called in France the "Evangelical School," in contradistinction what is called in France the "Evangelical School," It is rare to see in lin as medium.

SPIRIT COMMUNICATIONS.

TO CHARLES PARTRIDGE, AT HIS HOUSE, 26 WEST 15TH-ST., NOV. 29, 1856. (Through Mr. G. A. Redman, Medium, Office 891 Canal-street.)

CHAPTER II .- CONTINUED.

Charles Partridge and Mr. Redman only being present, the record of the previous conference was read, amended and approved, and the Spirit wrote as follows:

The formation of the spiritual body-its adaptation to the Spirit-its contrast with mundane forms.

As I before remarked, each stratum of atmosphere through which my Spirit passed, seemed to add to its vitality, identity and power; and as the age of the infant strengthens its Spirit, so the age of the Spirit strengthens its form.

We find it extremely difficult to describe, or give to mortality, an adequate conception of the form in which the Spirit exists We know that every existing thing, be it material or spiritual, has its own developed form. It is impossible for any virtue to exist without a corresponding sphere or limit.

There is a spirit in every existing thing: mineral, animal, vegetable or spiritual. It is not necessary for that spirit to be possessed of intellect; it is sufficient to term it a living principlea germ, a scion, ingrafted by God. Knowing therefore, that the spirit can not exist without form, you should also comprehend to some extent the nature of that form. It must differ materially from the mortal habitation or physical structure in which, and for which, the Spirit strove long years for the fulfillment of duties.

First. To give you an idea of our bodies, it will be necessary to state what spirit is. Immortal spirit is sight, intellect, thought and motive power. It is by the will that every act is performed. You will know that the Spirit, being motive power of itself, requires no physical application to impede its progress. Man needs a physical structure corresponding with physical duties; his duties being earthly, his organization must correspond thereto. On the the contrary, the spirit being spiritual, its duty spiritual, its organization must also be in correspondence.

Second. The food of the Spirit .- Does thy soul need be fed on apples to sustain it? Does it need to sit at some epicurean table and sup upon rich viands to become unfolded and display its progress? Does it need outward means, vegetable or mineral, to sustain its vitality? No; it is the mortal form which covets all the luxuries of the mouth. The Spirit would rather feed on some lofty idea, some sublime lesson in Nature, some beauty either of heaven or earth, some God-given blessing in the form of sweet impression. Such are the spirit's richest viands; such can the hungry spirit feast upon with pleasure, and became strong. Impressions are not the whole requirement of the spirit for growth; it is the development and purifying of those impressions that feed the soul. How unlike is this to the strange fantasies of men who imagine themselves unblessed unless the material wants of the body are supplied, regardless of the spiritual desires of the soul.

Third. The Sight of Spirit .- Are mortal eyes to be employed for the perception of the sublimity of the courts of heaven? Does it require those fine nerves of the mortal form to enjoy the sweets of the upper life? No! The spirit is perception of itself; it is sight of such clearness, too, that even the thoughts of man can not escape its penetration.

If neither of these organs is requisite for the Spirit, how much more are the rest which are seemingly less important? Knowing, as you must by this, that the contrast between the earthly and the spiritual body is great, the desire must be increased to understand the nature of our form. We can only reply, such an understanding is inconceivable to man, and inexplainable by Spirits. Not until the earth-life is passed, can man understand the true formation of his second body, or the tenement of his intelligence. By a psychological impression made upon the minds of the media, we can present ourselves to them as when mortal-so acute that they may describe us when with you. It is by an effort of the will that this is accomplished. Were they to see our real form, they could not recognize us, and would be wholly at a loss to understand the cause thereof. You speak to us-ask if we are sitting near-we respond, Yes. That being your highest idea of our position, we assent to it. You ask us if we walk with you? We respond affirmatively-walking being the most common means of locomotion for man. Such questions are naturally asked; and we, suiting our action to mortal mind, respond to his idea. It is by this that you often mistake, and suppose us formed, as you are, with the same means of locomotion and life.

morals, CHARLES PARTRIDGE.

Original Communications.

SPIRIT COMMUNICATION-CALL FOR MEDIUMS, PARTRIDGE AND BRITTAN:

CLAY, N. Y., November 16, 1856. Gentlemen-The following communication was received October 19, 1856, through the mediumship of Mrs. M. Wfrom the Spirit of our old friend and co-laborer in the cause of Spiritualism, William B. Wandell. A notice of his new birth was published in the TELEGRAPH of the 1st instant. If you consider any part of it, or the whole, worth an insertion in the Telegraph, you are at liberty to publish it. The medium, after entering the trance state, arose and went to Mrs. Wandell, and partially encircled her in her arms. The Spirit said:

"Jane, weep not for me; I am happy. You have false trouble. (Here the Spirit had reference to the time of its exit. Mrs. Wandell thought there had not been sufficient effort made to restore life—hence her extreme grief.) Though my Spirit was not released until 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, no power could have brought me back. As Spirits do not reckon time, you may be astonished that I should know when my Spirit left the form. But there was a clock in the house, and I looked at it as I passed out. My Spirit then saw the beauties of this home. As the angels escorted me they sang :

"Geome with us to our Spirit hom Where all is bright and pure and fair; There are is originated and the control of the cont

There were voices and instruments you know not of. You know I have told you death hal no terror. I did not suffer in passing from this world to the other. My Spirit was conscious, and knew the anxiety of the friends. I knew when you tried to restore me. I had no pain. It was but two or three breaths. Could see as the medium now a should not wish me back. It is impossible for any person in the form to imagine the beautes of the Spirit-world! I love you all. A part of my time is spent invisiting my friends. We have schools, and I am a scholar. I have three teachers: Stephen Rice, John Goff and Sarah M. Waters. Sarah is the better teacher. We have three studies: the first is harmony, the second is purity, and the third is love, which is the best of all. Our teaches prepare us for the spheres. At first we progress as we did in the form. As one Spirit leaves a sphere, another is prepared to enter that shere. The spheres are never broken. Everything is done in order. Asplanets fill space in order around the sun, so we fill space around God the creat center. The spheres are not one above another, but are placed here and there in order, around the great center. The different spheres are not together. We would not enjoy ourselves if they were; for we are undeveloped, and could not enjoy the society Our teachers take us on a pleasure excursion occasion ally. We like to come to earth and converse with our friends, and help to develop them. This is a pleasant labor. You have innocent pleasures; enjoy them. You can not enjoy anything wrong on earth. You may think you do, but you do not."

There was much more of the communication, but it was of a private nature, addressed to the members of the family; hence it would not be of sufficient interest to be presented to the public. Tears of joy were shed on this occasion, that rendered the scene interesting beyond description. What consolation and satisfaction to the Spiritualist to know that their departed friends have not "gone to that bourne whence no traveler returns!" When I contemplate the beauties of the Spirits' home, my spirit can hardly content itself to remain in the form. If Spiritualism had not done anything more than to destroy the fear of death, it has accomplished a great good, worthy of the consideration of all earth's children. But thank our Spirit friends that they do not teach us anything immoral or wicked-at least I have never known them to in all my experience. On the other hand, they teach us to be upright and honest with our fellow-men, and to worship God in spirit and in truth. They teach also that we are one brotherhood, and that progression is a germ planted within the interior of every soul, which will continue to unfold through unceasing ages of eternity.

The demand for well-developed mediums throughout the land is great. Would that this demand could be supplied! The people are hungering and thirsting after spiritual, food. Our public lecturers and mediums pass through our cities on our great thoroughfares, and leave us country people to glean what we can of their doings from the press. Why not turn aside occasionally and enter some of our flourishing little villages, and give us a feast of fat things?" I think if Redman or Conklin would pass through the country and make such stops as things would favorably indicate, they would do a vast amount of good. Let them give notice in the Telegraph, and other spiritual papers, a week or more in advance, that they would be in certain places at such and such times. Then the friends could have everything arranged for their comfort and converience, together with a general notice Faithfully reported by the humble servant of Spirits and which would give us all an opportunity to invite our skeptical friends to witness these things. I know of some old farmers in this vicinity who would be glad to entertain some such n jum for a week or ten days, besides seeing them well paid for eir Thine for progress,

SPIRITUALISM IN CARACAS.

Under the auspices of my angel sister Susan, Spiritualism has be stablished in Caracas, and has progressed beyond all precedent. ganizations have been formed in the spheres, and other facilities of conmunication with the children of Earth. meeting of the Central Circle, October 16th, the following communication was made through the medium:

"Philippa Outlaw has risen from the sixth to the seventh sphere, and General Piñango from the fourth to the fifth sphere. medium is now under the spiritual influence of Richard Blasco, who has risen in twenty-four hours from the first to the second sphere, by the grace of God and the advice and assistance of this circle. He pleads and asks forgiveness of his sins, of all whom he has wronged on earth. O! brothers, why do you not sympathize with my unfortunate case! Heed not what they say; olead for me; O! if you knew what misery I am still in. O! Eliza, in your own mind you were visited by the Spirit of your departed husband. O! Catholics, O! Catholics, why do you not leave off your superstition? There is but one God, one Christ. Then, beloved wife of my bosom, come forward and assist thy unfortunate husband who loves thee still. I have but little power to operate; be patient-I am weak, feeble and weeping. O! disgraciado Ricardo, unfortunate man I am still. There is a God in heaven who shall show thee I was bad-a God that don't require the downfall of his children. O! but then our beloved child whom you gave birth to-it prays for its father in the spheres. By that child and this Spirit circle, I am now more anxious than ever to rise to the angels of glory, the light of immortality and everlasting life. O! my brothers, pray for me; plead, plead for me. Ask the supreme and everlasting God, the Archangel of Jehovah, to intercede for me. All are to be saved. O! wife of my bosom, may every departed Spirit press on her mind the great truths unfolded by Spiritualism. Her mind is warped. Look, O look to the Supreme Being; to Him alone, bend thy knee; ask forgiveness, the light of glory, the light of immortality. Have patience with the weary sinner whose burthen has been to thee. O! what gifts of glory to them of the Spirit-belief. O! brothers, friends of the Celestial Circle, if you knew the prayers offered for our sphere, you would sit day by day, and you would say, God be merciful to the predigal son! The blessings of your world are nothing to these of the spheres. By me the displeasure of God must be borne; I am a wanderer to the mountain-top, and ride over the valleys below. May I be bathed in the waters of Jordan, and be wasted in the air of the spheres where the heads and hearts are turned. God is just; God has made man; why could he deny to save his Spirit-children in immortal love and harmony." RICARDO BLASCO. The foregoing may be interesting to our spiritual friends.

Caracas, October 25, 1856.

SPIRIT PHENOMENA IN NILES, OHIO.

NILES, OHIO, November 9, 1856.

MESSRS. PARTRIDGE AND BRITTAN:

Having noticed a call for test facts in the TELEGRAPH, I will forward you a few, of which I have witnessed many. October 23d, while my daughter was quite unwell, and my little granddaughter was standing near her mother, a medium present, Lucy Battles, became entranced, and began to speak comfortingly to her mother about things that she knew nothing of. The Spirit spoke some fifteen minutes. To my great astonishment she said she had been to the Spirit-land, and she gave us a minute description of what she saw. I have not language to describe the beauties as she related them to me. What surprises me is, that a Spirit should converse through her physical system whilst her spirit as exploring the Spirit-home!

On the 6th of the present month, another singular eircumstance occurred. Some two weeks previous to what I am new about to relate, the medium became influenced by a Spirit purporting to be S. C., and took from the medium's ears her ear-drops and gave them to me for safe keeping, saying that the medium might lose them. Accordingly T took them and put them in my trunk and looked it, and kept the key in my pecket. Last Friday, the 7th, the medium came to me for her ear-drops. Accordingly I unlocked my trunk and searched it through but they were not to be found. On passing out of the room the medium but they were and the my side pocket, and taking out the ear-drops showed them to me! Now let those who say it is mind acting upon mind that produces these phenomena, consider that it was in my mind that the drops were in the trunk!

Lucy Battles is a remarkable medium—sees the Spirits and describes them, even to the color of their hair and eyes. We have almost daily communications. She speaks several, to her, unknown languages. She labors under some disadvantage on account of surrounding conditions

Yours for Truth and Progress, E. W. LENNING.

A CONVERSION TO SPIRITUALISM.

BROTHER BRITTAN AND PARTRIDGE:

Having, through the kind agency of Mr. James C. Wingard, been led from the darkness of unbelief into the glorious light and liberty of the spiritual faith, I deem it a duty which I owe alike to him, to truth and to soffety at large, to make this public statement in relation to the From the time that Spiritualism first began to obtain headway, I took my stand as one of its bitterest opponents. Not only was I askeptic as to the peculiar doctrines of the new and living fuith, but I as so to all faith which is worthy of the name. Immortality and Cod, and all the mysteries of the HERBAFTER, were to me but as the reams of fanatics and fools. I believed them not. Like the fallen ree which " rots, perishes and passes," I thought that man, too, passed away at death, and that the grave was indeed his goal. And in this belief I was not alone; it was a family belief in which my wife and sister joined. Whether they had been contaminated by my ideas, or of their own accord had strayed into the barren wilds of doubt and disbelief, I can not say. Snake it that we all read with avidity such books as Baron O'Holbach's System of Nature," "Good Sense," etc., and were confirmed atheists. Our wonder now is that a man with such a mind as Baroa D'Holbach undoubtedly possessed, could for a moment entertain such ideas. For myself, with but a limited education, it is by no means marvelons that my judgment should be led captive by the ever fallacious reasonings of such a thinker. But to my subject.

The first time that I ever saw Mr. Wingard was in the summer of 1853. My wife was at the time lying at the point of death. Our physician—a man of reputed skill—had abandoned all hope of her recovery. On the morning of the 13th of August, 1853, she was taken with the "black vomit," and on the evening of that day—a fearful day in this city of New Orleans—when standing at my door, I saw Mr. Wingard approach. Mistaking him in the twilight for a friend whom I expensed. pected, I asked him to walk in, and he did so. As soon as we advanced to the lighted room, I discovered my mistake, and told him that grief had so blinded me that I had mistaken him for a well-known friend. I knew not then how little my apologies were needed, and that I had found in him a friend indeed. With few preliminaries I told him of my poor wife's condition; for, atheist though I was, I still loved my Mary Then it was that he breathed into my ear a spiritual hope, and told of the ministering angels which come to us from the realms of the departed, with healing on their wings. Like the drowning man that catches at a straw, I caught at the hope he held out before me, and followed implicitly the advice he gave. That night, and a part of the night following, he sat up with my Mary, and when he called again on the second morning, the last symptoms of "black vomit" had disap peared. From that time she recovered rapidly, and in a week we parted from Mr. Wingard and saw no more of him till the early part of July in the present year. At our next interview my wife was suffering from a severe attack of typhoid fever. She had wasted away almost to a skeleton, and physicians so disagreed in their diagnosis of her case that I began to lose all confidence in them, especially as they all declared that she could not be cured.

Eventually I began to inquire for Mr. Wingard, and was grieved to find that he had gone to Louisville. My wife was certain that he could effect a cure if he could but be found, and to satisfy her I followed him to Louisville, but was again disappointed by learning that on the morning of my arrival he had started for New York. This information, however, proved to be unfounded, for in a few days I learned that he had returned to New Orleans.

Having on our first acquaintance heard a great deal from Mr. Wingard about Spiritualism, and being informed that a healing medium had made his appearance at St. Louis, I made up my mind to see him. Accordingly I visited St. Louis, and got Mr. — to make a spiritual examination of my wife's condition. After doing so he informed me that she was incurable. This information of itself would have killed nine women out of ten who were in my wife's condition, but she still clung to hope -- to the hope that Mr. Wingard could cure her.

By the time that we arrived at New Orleans my wife was in a deplorable condition; and at the time that an interview with Mr. Wingard was obtained, I did not think that she could possibly live two days longer. When he called, she was utterly unconscious. He took hold of her hands, and almost immediately a trance-like change came over him. In his countenance a peculiar transformation took place, and from his hands an electric or spiritual and healing influence passed to her, though she still remained unconscious. After he left she was soon restored to consciousness, when she informed us that she had had a vision of Mr. Wingard standing by her bedside, and holding her hand; and when told that the vision was a reality, she seemed surprised and pleased. Mr. Wingard again called the next day, and the next. At the third interview he was deeply entranced, and the mysterious unfoldings of spiritual power which were then revealed, convinced me of the immortality of the soul, and of the real existence of a Supreme Being—the All-Powerful and the All-Good! I could no longer doubt that men in this life can hold intimate and intelligible communion with departed relatives and friends-ministering Spirits from "the better land." I questioned Mr. Wingard in his capacity of medium, of many things known only to myself and God. Among other things he informed me of the particulars of a business transaction at Mobile; what we had seen in our recent trip, and indeed all the more notable events in my life's history—thus reading my soul as "an open book" by the mysterious agency of Spirit mediumship! And is it to be wondered that he fixed my faith on what has heretofore been an unreal—an "undiscovered country?" Beside, he informed my sister of many things which were significant to her alone, and mildly, yet strongly, rebuked both of us for our unbelief, in language the most touchingly beautiful that we ever listened to. He described accurately my father, mother, grandmother, two sisters, and the Spirits of other deceased relatives, some of whom had been removed to the land of "roseate shadows" full thirty years ago. In fact I could fill pages with his wonderful revelations of things none knew but myself, and many of which I had even forgotten. As to my wife, he gave what was as far as I am capable of judging-a clear diagnosis of her disease, and a list of the medicines, which were very gentle in their nature, and which were necessary to effect a cure. This was done while he was in a trance state, in which condition he continued for two hours. When he returned to his normal condition, he knew nothing of what had occurred while the trance was on him.

My wife enjoys better health now than she ever did before.

I could relate many things which took place when my wife was subequently entranced, but to do so would be foreign to my present purpose. I merely wish to render justice to Mr. Wingard to whom I owe more than I ever can repay. Money is no equivalent for the life he saved twice, or which was saved through his mediumship, and for the hopes of immortality which he was the means of reviving. I offered to pay him for his services, but he would take nothing, and it was with great difficulty indeed that I thrust a present into his hands. Would to God there were more like him! I have no words to speak my gratitude for the restoration to health of my dear companion, and for the moral benefits alike obtained through his generous instrumentality. May his pathway through life be strewn with flowers, and brightened by radiance from the Divine Source of Love and Light!

My gratitude has perhaps made me blind to his faults-for faults all mortals have—and I may have said too much. But I do not think I have. My idea of humanity now, is to take the good which it manifests, and, if possible, avoid its errors. Black indeed must be that cloud which has no "silver lining."

I am fraternally yours, NEW ORLEANS, November 25, 1856.

We concur in all of the above with feelings of profoundest love and gratitude to Mr. Wingard.

(Signed)

FACTS.

THE accumulative evidence of Spirit intercourse do not (as the Rev. Mr. Gordon and others supposer consist in giving us the age, disease, etc., of our grandmothers, or in answering theological questions; but the persistent investigator is often met with those clear individualities which in the aggregate amount to a demonstration. I say often, and here is precisely the error of most seekers—because they do not see precisely analogous facts in a few sittings, they assume that no one else has seen them.

Three of us, males, all being more or less mediums, resolved to form a circle among ourselves to see what would come of it. At our first sitting, I commenced to magnetise Mr. Outley who soon came (as I suppose) under my influence. I removed the light to the other side of the room, so that it might not injure his eyes (a precaution that all ought to observe, as the eye becomes very ensitive under the influence). In this condition he reached out, got pencil and paper, and commenced writing, much to my surprise, as he had never written before. His eyes were fast closed, and it was so dark that I could not see what was written. On taking the paper to the light, I found written in a plain large hand-writing, "It will require a half hour to get him where we want him." I thought I had done enough, when it was written, "You may work on him till his breath becomes very short." I again thought that I had him sure, when it was written, "You get him off, and we will take him." Here, I said, this Spirit seems to understand magnetism. It was written, "He is not enough; he is my first." T. West Cobbly." And again, "Work on his head; if I can get him under my control, I will make him speak" I was becoming interested when he wrote, "Work on the animal; the intellect is far enough." I made some passes over the back brain; he became much agitated, when it was written, "Let the hand rest on the top of the head; his is a peculiar temperament." I remarked that this was the kind of Spirit that I like to meet; that he appeared to have some practical sense about him, when it was written, "I am a man after your own heart; all I want is a medium."

After a few minutes it was written, "I have got his eyes open; that is something gained." This was a good test; I was standing behind him; the other medium was nearly abnormal; I looked and found that his eyes had that peculiar expression common to all somnambulists. but the first knowledge of it came from the Spirit. I continued some little while longer-not an hour in all-when he wrote, "He is the mind I want, but it wont do to take him too fast. You may bring him out and I will try him again." I did so, and found that he had no recollection of anything that occurred, and I have purposely kept him in ignorance since.

Here were repeated evidences of care and instruction; answers written to my thoughts; directions to do differently from my usual custom in magnetizing, repeated over and over again, commencing unexpectedly, and ending abruptly, showing as plainly as could be shown to me the presence of another mind to direct and control. The other medium did not notice what was going on. I could not have written in that light in an intelligible manner with my eyes open, while he was made to do it with his tightly closed. Nor yet am I able to produce on paper the hundreds of little facts that thus appear to the close observer, which make up the sum of knowledge of the future life and our individuality. A. MILTENBERGER.

St. Louis, December, 1856.

* None of us know who this is, nor do we much care to know.

SPIRITUALISM NOT RESPONSIBLE.

LETTER CONCEENING MR. FAIRBANK

MESSRS. PARTRIDGE AND BRITTAN:

[ROCHESTER, December 7, 1856.

Allow me, through the columns of the TRIEGRAPH, to make the following statement: I knew Mr. Fairbank for some months previous to his untimely death, and have passed many hours of most agreeable conversation with him, during which I heard him repeatedly observe in substance as follows:

"But for the consolatory influence of spiritual intercourse with my departed Spirit friends, I should have been in Spirit life long ago. I had a severe attack of brain fever many years since, from the effects of which I have never entirely recovered; and when I contract a cold or become very much engrossed in business or study, those terrible states of mind return, and I have found Spiritualism a magical balm to my feelings at such times.'

Those were the observations of our departed brother, whose death is attributed to the divine hand of spiritual intercourse. I consider that the Coroner's Jury assumed an unwarrantable liberty, which bordered on a bigoted arrogance, when they asserted that Mr. Pairbank "came to his death from a belief in Spiritualism," while his own words were: "Spiritualism," itualism has saved me from self-destruction for years past.

Had all the members of Grace Church risen in their pews on Sabbath last, and plunged daggers to their hearts, the Tribune would not have made so much ado as when a believer in Spiritualism commits suicide. I venture to predict that one score of years will not have elapsed before that journal (should it survive that period) will be most heartily ashamed of the boyish, vacillating course it has adopted toward a great self-demonstrative truth. You may buckle all the suicides of the race for the next thousand years to the back of Spiritnalism, and it will not even bend, much less break; and you may add five hundred asylums for the insane, filled with mad speculators, mad brandy drinkers, mad politicians, and mad Fourierites into the bargain.

I should not have written thus much on so unattractive a theme, had not simple justice demanded it. But is it not true that the living Christ is always a Beelzebub, in the estimation of certain minds?

Yours truly,

BORN INTO THE SPIRIT WORLD.

AT Newark, N. J., on Sunday morning, December 7, Amelia Starb Swezy, daughter of William H. and Susan Swezy, experienced a resurrection from the earth-form, aged 22 months. This "bud of promise" has been transplanted to the more congenial clime of her celes-tial home, where, amid scenes of beauty and harmony, she will unfold the divine capabilities of her soul. Her parents are blessed with a realization that the separation is more apparent than real, and that this gem of their hearts, together with the angel host, are ever present to whisper words of comfort and encouragement, and direct them in "ways of pleasantness, and in paths of peace."

An esteemed friend has contributed the following lines, suggested by the occasion.

THE ANGEL'S VISIT.

A babe once sleeping on its mother's breast, So pure and bright in its sinless rest, That an angel passing by that way, Gazed with love on the beauteous clay:

"A bud so fair should in Heaven bloom, Come, sweet one! to our Eden-home; Angel forms shall thy footsteps guide, Angel hands for thy wants provide." Softly he pressed a kiss of love On the baby-brow of the household dove, Then gently bore in his arms away, The mother's joy to the realms of day The mother wept for the dear one gone; The father sat in his grief alone; But lo! from the grave fresh blossoms bloom, And Hope with a smile views the opening tomb. They feel she is near, and inly bless, As she comes in dreams with a soft caress, With a "good-bye" kiss, or the evening smile, Which once was the right of their baby-child. They bless the Power who in kindness gives The heaven-born hope that their loved one lives ; That she's with them still in her sinless love, Till they rest with her in the Home above.

THE BOOMERANG .- This curious weapon, peculiar to the natives of Australia, has often proved a puzzler to men of science. It is a piece of carved wood nearly in the form of a crescent, from thirty to forty inches long, pointed at both ends, and the corner quite sharp. The mode of using it is singular as the weapon. Ask a black to throw it so as to let it fall at his feet, and away it goes full forty yards before him, skimming along the surface at three or four feet from the ground; when it will suddenly rise in the air forty or sixty feet, describing a curve and finally dropping at the feet of the thrower. During its curve and finally dropping at the feet of the thrower. During its course it revolves with great rapidity on a pivot, with a whizzing noise. It is wonderful so barbarous a people have invented so singular a weapon, which sets laws of progression at defiance. It is very dangerons for a Enropean to try to project it at any object, as it may return and strike himself. In a native's hand it is a formidable weapon, striking without the projector being seen. It was invented to strike the kangaroo, which is killed by it with certainty.

Miscellann. Interesting

THE PROPHET'S TOMB.

MOHAMMED, the Prophet of Allah, lies buried in the city of El Medinah, and all the world of Islam goes up to his temb. About this temb there hangs a great deal of mystery. The vulgar story of the suspended coffin, has long been exploded, and the question now seems to be, whether there is any tomb at all? Lieut. Burton who recently made a pilgrimage to the holy cities, in the disguise of an Afghan Dervish, furnishes the most reliable information upon this point. We learn from his Narrative, that although thousands go yearly to El Medinah to see the tomb of the Prophet, yet no one ever saw it!

In one corner of the grand mosque of that city there is a chamber supposed to be entirely walled up with stone or planking, inside of which, the pilgrim is told, are the tombs of Mohammed and the first two caliphs, Abubekr and Omar. But this walled chamber is surrounded, outside, with a curtain, somewhat like a four-post bed. No one is permitted to look behind the curtain, except the eunuchs who at times replace it with a new one, and they say that a supernatural light surrounds the tomb that would strike with blindness any one who should have the temerity to approach it. This story is now universally believed among Moslems.

Outside of the curtain, leaving a narrow space between, is an iron filagree railing, which serves to keep the crowd from close contact with the tomb. After many prayers and prostrations the pilgrim is made to approach a small window in the railing through which he catches a glimpse of the mysterious curtain. The exact place of Mohammed's tomb is distinguished by a large pearl rosary, and a peculiar ornament suspended to the curtain, which the vulgar believe to be a "jewel of the jewels of Paradise." Lieut. Burton, however, says, to his eyes it resembled the ground stoppers of glass, used for the humbler sort of decanters! Through the window in the railing the pilgrims are expected to throw their contributions, and the treasures of the place are kept in the narrow passage between the railing and the curtain. The amount is said to be enormous, which Lieut. Burton doubts. No one is permitted to enter this passage except upon the payment of an exorbitant sum.

What there really is behind the curtain, seems to be a matter of great doubt. The Moslem authorities are divided in opinion. Some say there is no wall behind the curtain; others that it covers a square building of black stones, in the interior of which is the tomb, while others say there are three deep graves but no traces of tombs; and lastly, Lieut. Burton greatly suspects that the burial-place of the Prophet is unknown! Certainly the eunuch's story of the blinding light that surrounds the Prophet's tomb, looks like a priestly gloss to hide a defect.

Yet all the world of Islam goes up to pray at the Prophet's tomb, and millions believe that he now lies there with blooming face and bright eyes, and that blood would issue from his body if wounded, for no one would dare to assert that the holy one is suffered to undergo corruption .- Portland Transcript.

GROWTH OF NEW ZEALAND .- The Paris correspondent of the Journal of Commerce shows the extraordinary progress of this colony of Great Britain. He says: "Fifteen years ago the colony of New Zealand was an uncultivated, unexplored group of islands, inhabited by native can-The New Zealand Company undertook it, sent out emigrants. turned to account its abundant agricultural and mineral resources, dis covered the superior intelligence and aptitude for civilization of the indigenous race, and with the aid of indefatigable missionaries, converted the heathen to Christianity. In a short time the British Government erected New Zealand into a separate colony. The population was then not over five thousand; it has increased to nearly 180,000, of whom 50,000 at least are whites, mostly all emigrants from the mother country. Sir Robert Peel once emphatically called it the Great Britain of the Southern Seas. Its revenue from the customs exceeds £100,000 a year; the exports amount to more than a quarter of a million. It is the see of a bishop of the Established Church. The metropolitan country has granted it a free constitution 'almost equal to universal suffrage.' The next clip of the wool of the Province of Wellington alone will not be less than a million of pounds, and, including the other southern provinces, may be estimated at three millions. Education is extending among the natives by means of industrial schools, in which their children are provided with everything. The missionary establishments are numerous. A Mr. Smith, of Wellington, 'came home after a residence of seventeen months in New Zealand,' and communicated much interesting information. He deems it probable that the population will be doubled every three years. Within two months two thousand persons left Victoria for New Zealand. It would certainly be among the most prosperous and wealthy of the British poss is mentioned in Johnston's Gazetteer, that in 1840 a hundred American whaling vessels visited New Zealand."

A TRAVELING PALACE .-- The new railway train built by the Orleans Company, for the Emperor, is composed of five carriages. No. 1 forms a dining-room and saloon for the aids-de-camp, with kitchen and dress-No. 2 forms a kind of terrace, and is all made of wrought iron, polished, and of beautiful workmanship. No. 3, which is the state carriage, or reception saloon, is surmounted by the imperial crown; it is composed of an ante-chamber, with folding sideboards for refreshments. No. 4 is the bedroom; it has been very ingeniously divided. It comprises a bedroom for the ladies of honor; bedroom for the emperor and empress, with a cradle for the prince imperial, dressing-rooms, etc. No. 5 is a waiting-room for the servants, place for luggage, and also has a cupboard containing every kind of tool that could be required in case of an accident. All these carriages are elegantly decorated.

PRESENTIMENTS.

I HAVE heard of several cases of people hurrying home from a presentiment of fire; and Mr. M. Calderhood was once, when absent from home, seized with such an anxiety about his family, that, without being able in any way to account for it, he felt himself impelled to fly to them and remove them from the house they were inhabiting : one wing of which fell down immediately afterward. No notion of such a misortune had ever before occurred to him, nor was there any reason whatever to expectit; the accident originating from some defect in the foundation.

A circumstance exactly similar to this is related by Stilling, of Professor Bohm, teacher of Mathematics at Marburg; who being one evening in company, was suddenly seized with a conviction that he ought to go home. As, however, he was very comfortably taking tea, and had nothing to do at home, he resisted the admonition; but it returned with such force that at length he was obliged to yield. reaching his house, he found everything as he had left it; but he now felt himself urged to remove his bed from the corner in which it stood, to another; but, as it had always stood there, he resisted this impulsion also. However, the resistance was vain; absurd as it seemed, he felt he must do it; so he summoned the maid, and, with her aid, drew the bed to the other side of the room; after which he felt quite at ease and returned to spend the rest of the evening with his friends. At ten o'clock the party broke up, and he retired home, and went to bed and to sleep. In the middle of the night he was wakened by a loud crash, and on looking out he saw that a large beam had fallen, bringing part of the ceiling with it, and was lying exactly on the spot his bed had occupied.

One of the most remarkable cases of presentiment I know, is that which occurred not very long since on board one of her Majesty's ships when lying off Portsmouth. The officers being one day at the mes table, a young Lieutenant P. suddenly laid down his knife and fork pushed away his plate, and turned extremely pale. He then rose from the table, covered his face with his hands, and retired from the room. The president of the mess, supposing him to be ill, sent one of the young men to inquire what was the matter. At first Mr. P. was unwilling to speak; but on being pressed, he confessed that he had been eized by a sudden and irresistible impression that a brother he had then in India was dead. "He died," said he, "on the 12th of August, at six o'clock; I am perfectly certain of it." No arguments could overthrow this opinion, which, in due course of post, was verified to the letter. The young man had died at Cawnpore, at the period mentioned.

OLD DOG TRAY.

M. Charles R —, apoor orphan, living in the outskirts of Paris, had owing to him a debt of five hundred and twenty francs, which he never expected to get, so long had it been due, and so often had he applied in vain for it. However, findless himself entirely without money, a situation by no means uncommon among authors, he resolved to try the non-paying debtor once more. What was his amazement and delight, when a note of five hundred francs and a twenty franc piece was in his hands. Regarding it as an absolute godsend, he resolved to change the gold piece, and testify his gratitude to Heaven by giving it in alms or his way home. Placing the note in his pocket-book he fulfilled his be nevolent design, and no beggar applied in vain during his long walk.

As he drew near home a wretched little dog came to him and be ought his attention to its starving condition. At any other time he might have rudely driven it away ; but this evening his heart was open, and he concluded to take the poor brute with him. True, his wife hated dogs, but he trusted to his good fortune to soften her heart as it had his. It was quite dark when he reached home, and he entered the house with the dog close to his heels.

'What is that?" cried the lady, preparing to drive the intruder out of the door.

"Only a poor little dog I have made bold to bring home with me. But listen, wife, to my good fortune.

As he related the story, the good lady became molified, and the little dog was almost forgotten.

"See, here is the money, safe in my pocket-book," concluded the husband, putting his hand in his pocket to furnish the proof of his story.

But no pocket-book was there! It was gone! And despair seized the poor author's heart. Rage again rose in the good wife, and the dog was an admirable scapegoat. Scizing a stick—" Get out of my house!" she cried. "But for attending to you, that stupid man would not have lost his money !"

But the dog would not move, and cowered closer to the feet of the first friend, who had not now the heart to protect him. So, lifting him in her arms, the angry lady prepared forcibly to eject him, when, lo I there, tightly grasped in his mouth was the missing pocket-book, which the obscurity had prevented their seeing before. It had fallen through a rent in the master's pocket, and the grateful creature had picked it up and kept it safely till discovered. There is at this day no more honored member of the author's family than the now fat and sleek dog, who ever occupies the warmest corner of the hearth.

HEALTHY EFFECT OF TREES.—The interposition of a dense forest, of a high wall, a chain of elevated hills, or any other natural or mechanical obstacle, has been known to protect the inhabitants of villages, of camps, of convents, and of single habitations, from [the pestiferous influence of neighboring marshes. A notable instance of this sanitary principle is stated in respect to a convent, situated on Mount Argental, near the village of St. Stephano, which for a long time was remarkable for its salubrity, but when the trees were cut down, it became extremely sickly,

HARMONY OF REVELATION AND SCIEN During the past few years, much discussion has been elicite gard to the teachings of geology and their bearing on Rev

Some have asserted that the views of geologists respecting the the world, and the succession of organic oreation, contradict the tures, while others assert the contrary.

The question is one of deep interest, and has engaged, and is ngaging, the attention of many men eminent for scholastic and so tific attainments. Various works have been written, pro and con the subject, and numerous controversial papers given to the wor through the columns of certain periodicals

Prof. Taylor Lewis, of Union College, distinguished for his biblical dearning, and Prof Dana, of Yale College, so eminent for his scientific knowledge and ability, have had a discussion in recent numbers of the Bibliotheca Sacra, and the question does no' seem to be considered exhausted, for Prof. Barrows, of Andover, has gone into it again in the last number of this able review.

In our opinion the question has been brought to a point at which it may be truly said, "argument is exhausted and further discussion worse than useless." Our reasons for these opinions will be given in a few words.

The Scriptures and the science of geology teach us that this earth as, at one period, in a state or condition without a living thing upon it-no plant, no flower, no insect, bird, beast or man. Both teach us that the successive acts of creation described in the first book of Genesis are in exact accordance with the revelations of the book of nature. There is no difference of opinion between the teachings of Revelation and Science on these points.

One class believe that the days mentioned in the first chapter of Genesis, mean epochs of time, and may be so interpreted, and thus accord with the teachings of geology; the other class believe that the days referred to can not be so interpreted—that they mean solar days : and thus they assert that this science, as generally taught, is contradictory to Revelation. Thus the main question stands-but not involving. conceive, the least contradiction between Science and Revelation, for the question of controversy is one only relating to TIME.

Moses, who certainly was ignorant of geology, has described the suc essive acts of creation in that specific order which accords with the science of geology. It is reasonable to suppose that an ignorant man, in describing the order of nature, as unfolded by the successive fiats of the great Jehovah, would have presented only a confused and contradictory effusion; but instead of the first chapter of history being of this character, it vibrates in unison with the discoveries of the most modern science, thus proving that the pen of its author was directed by the Author of Creation. The question of the harmony of Revela-tion and Science, as it relates to the "orders of creation," stands upon a grand and impregnable basis .- Scientific American. --

Water.—This is one of the elements without which we could not exist. Neither animal nor vegetable life could possibly continue without water. Now the rains descend from heaven, and the dews fall lightly on the parched earth, causing it to bud and bring forth, that it may give "seed to the sower and bread to the eater." arrayed in all her charms. Everything is bright, and beautiful, and joyous. The fountains send up their crystal waters beneath the cool shade, or, bursting their chains in the everlasting hills, pour out their contents to irrigate the plains and vallies below. We hear the music of ten thousand voices, and nature, animate and inanimate, unite in swelling the great anthem of praise to Him who formed " the heavens, and the earth, and the fountains of waters." The chiming of the little rill trickling from rugged rocks and mountain steeps, is borne along by the passing zephyr; the faint murmuring of the distant waterfall comes to us on the evening breeze, and the soft low music of rippling streams falls soothingly on the sense as they meet, and their voices mingle in harmony. And then comes the solemn bass in Nature's anthem-the utterance of the Thunders-the din of Cataracts, and the hollow voices assembled Oceans. All Creation is vocal. But once let the order of Nature be disturbed ; let the natural process of exhalation by which our earth is watered and fertilized, be interrupted, and the scene would speedily be changed. The pale hues of death would steal over the bright and beautiful things of earth; the sweet spirit of the sounds and the colors would vanish, and all nature would be silent from S. B. B. mourning.

THE ACTION OF LIGHT UPON THE GROWTH OF THE ROOTS OF PLANTS. The action of light upon the growth of the leaves and stems of plants, and the attraction of the leaves toward it, is well known. That flowers, leaves, and stems turn to to the light, is seen by any one who keeps plants in a window. The action of light, however, upon the roots is less known, although it is an equally important subject. Hitherto the tendencies of the roots to grow downward has been attributed to the influence of gravitation, the attraction at the ground from which the roots derive their nourishment; but light produces a still greater influence. The roots shun the light in the same proportion as the stems seek it. Experiments have proved this most satisfactorily. A deep box was taken, thoroughly impervious to light, and upon a wire grating at the upper end of the inside, peas and cress-seed were sown in wet moss. At the lower end of the box a small hole was made. through which the sun-light was thrown by means of a reflector placed underneath. As the seeds began to vegetate, the roots grew upward. and the leaves downward, toward the light.

THE Emperor of Russia it is said, has resolved to introduce the Gregorian calendar into Russia, and thus to do away with the difference of 12 days between the old style and the new. This change will greatly aid the development of commerce.

PARTRIDGE AND BRITTAN'S SPIRITUAL TELEGRAPH.

SPIRIT AND CLAIRVOYANT MEDIUMS IN NEW YORK.

Mrs. E. J. French, No. 4 Fourth Avenue, Clairvoyant and Healing Physician for the treatment of diseases. Hours, 10 A. M. to 1 P. M., and 2 to 4 P. M. Electro-medical and the stream of the control of th the treatment of diseases. Hours, 10 a medicated Baths given by Mrs. French.

Mrs. Harriet Porter, Clairvoyant Physician and Spirit-Medium, 109 West Twenty fourth-street, between Sixth and Seventh Avenues. Hours from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 5 r. m., Wednesdays and Sundays excepted.

Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, Spirit Medium, Rooms, No. 625 Broadway, New York., Visitors respired for the investigation of Spirit Manifestations every day, (except Sundays), from 9 A. M., to 12½ P. M. On Tuesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Satur-

Mrs Bradley, Healing Medium, 109 Green-street. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fri-

Miss Katy Fox, Rapping Medium, Twenty-second street, corner Fourth Avenue May be seen in the evening only.

Ers. M. B. Gourlay, the Medium through whom Dr. Hare made most of his experiments, No. 77 Lexington Avenue, near Twenty-sixth street.

Miss Seabring can be seen daily at 115% Grand street. Hours, from 10 to 12 A. M. and 2 to 5 and 8 to 10 P. M. No Circle Saturday evenings, nor Sunday mornings

Mrs. Beck, 883 Eighth Avenue, Trance, Speaking, Rapping, Tipping and Personat-

J. B. Conklin, Test Medium, Rooms 477 Broadway. Hours, daily, from 9 a. m. to

A. B. Smith, Rondout, N. Y., Clairvoyant and Spirit Medium for healing the sick. Mr. S. can examine patients at a distance by having their names and reside submitted to his inspection.

Mr. G. A. Redman, of Boston, Test Medium, has taken rooms at 138 Canal-street, (new No. 891) where he may be consulted.

Miss Mildred Cole, Trance Speaking Medium, 485 Sixth Avenue, near Thirti th

Mrs. Lorin L. Platt, of New Brunswick, N. J., Spiritual and Clairvoyant Medium, employs her powers chiefly in the examination and treatment of disease.

CONNECTIGUT.

Mrs. J. R. Mettler, Clairvoyant and Spirit Medium, devotes her time chiefly to the examination and treatment of the sick. Mrs. M. also gives Psychometrical delineations of character. Residence, No. 9 Winthrop-street, Hartford.

Mrs. R. M. Henderson is a Trance-Speaking Medium of whose abilities we hear very favorable reports. We once had the pleasure of listening to her in Hartford, and can truly say that her discourse on that occasion was, intrinsically and as an illustration of mediumship, above the average standard. Mrs. Hend may be addressed at Newtown, Conn.

Mrs. Caroline E. Dorman, Clairvoyant, residence 122 Grand-street, New Haven. Medical examinations and prescriptions for the sick will be attended to.

RHODE ISLAND.

s. H. T. Huntley is a Trance-Speaking Medium, who capacity for two years. Address at Providence, R. I.

BOSTON.

Mrs. W. R. Hayden, Test Medium, by Rapping, Writing, and other modes of manifestation. Residence, No. 5 Hayward-place.

Miss Frank Burbank, Trance, Speaking and Personating Medium, may be found

G. A. Redman, Test Medium by the various modes, Rapping, Writing and Tipping, has his rooms at No. 45 Carver-street.

Mrs. B. K. Little, (formerly Miss Ellis,) Rapping, Writing and Trance Medium, has opened rooms at No. 46 Elliot-street. Miss A. W. Snow, No. 104 Tyler-street, Writing and Trance Medium, propose to answer scaled letters, and describe persons that have left the form.

TCHBURG, MS.

Mrs. E. W. Sidney, Medical Clairvoyant and Spirit Medium, Rooms Fitchburg, Mass. Terms for an examination and prescription, $1.

SOUTH ROYALTON, VT.

Mrs. Mary H. Brown, Medical Clairvoyant and Healing Medium, will be happy to wait on the sick and afflicted.

NASHUA, N. H. Dr. Charles Ramsdell, Clairvoyant, Writing, and Psychometric Medium, No. 19 MICHIGAN.

Mrs. C. M. Tuttle, who has for some three years been before the public as a highly acceptable trance lecturing medium, will answer demands upon her services in the above capacity. Address Albion, Michigan.

MRS. E. J. FRENCH. CLAIRVOYANT AND HEALING PHYSICIAN,

 ${\tt NO.~4~FOURTH~AVENUE.}$ The morbid conditions of the Human organism delineated and prescribed for with unparalleled success.

TERMS—For examination and prescription $5, when the patient is present; if absent $.0. All subsequent examinations $2. Terms strictly in advance. In order to insure prompt attention some of the leading symptoms must be given when sending Hours from 10 to 1 and from 2 to 4, except Saturdays and Sundays.

MRS. M. B. GOURLAY,

Healing, Clairvoyant, Psychometric, Speaking, Writing and Test Medium, (through whom Prof. Hare, of Philadelphia, conducted his investigations of the Spiritual Phenomena) offers her services to the Public.

Unmistakable Tests of Spiritual presence, identity and communion, together with diagnoses of disease and treatment are given. Hours, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m., and from 4 to 10 p. m. Residence, No. 77 Lexington Avenue, above Twenty-sixth

CLAIRVOYANT EXAMINATIONS AND TREATMENT.

A. B. SMITH, Rondout, N. Y., Clairvoyant and Spirit medium for healing the seek, Mr. S. can examine patients at a distance by having their names and residences submitted to his inspection. Each letter in which the writer requires such an examination must inclose one dollar. Each prescription, if the medicine be furnished, one dollar additional.

MR. G. A. REDMAN.

The well-known Test Medium of Boston has taken rooms in Canal-street, old No. 138, new No. 391. Hours may be engaged from 9 a. m. till 9 p. m. Public Circles, ovening only, from 7 to 9 p. m. Private parties can be accommodated at the rooms, or at their residences if desired. To insure an uninterrupted opportunity of investigation, hours should be previously engaged.

MRS. M. J. MABIN, M. D.

No. 37 Lafayette Place, New York. Office hours, 10 a. M. to 1 p. M., exclusively for ladies, and from 2 to 5 p. M. for gentlemen, Wednesdays excepted. All other hours by appointment. Persons applying by letter must state the name, sex, and age of the patient, together with the leading features of the case. Examinations made in the interior, not the clairvoyant state. Terms:—For first examination and prescription, $5, if the patient is present; $.0 if absent; all subsequent examinations $5. Terms strictly in advance.

MEDICAL CLAIRVOYANCE.

An accurate and reliable diagnosis with prescription will be guaranteed on application, personally or by letter, to T. G. Chaste, M. D., 356 North 12th-street, Philadelphia, Pa. Trins; When the patient is present, $5; if with written diagnosis and medicine, $5; when by lock of hair from a distance, $6—in all eases, except of pecuniary inability. Then a difference will be made.

281-8m

MRS. HAYES,
Clairvoyant and Healing Physician, Office 176 Grand-street. Wonderful cures by her clairvoyant powers. Terms: Examination, including Prescription, St. Satisfactory examinations given, remember, or no pay taken. 200 BR. HAYES, Electrician.

CLAIR VOYANCE.

Mrs. Caroline E. Dorman has removed to New Haven, where she will make medical examinations and prescriptions for the sick, at her residence, 122 Grand-street, New Haven. Terms: First examination, $3; each subsequent one, $2.

CLAIRVOYANCE AND PSYCHORETRY.

MRS. AVNE DENTON CRIDGE.

PSYCHOMETRIC READER, Dayton Ohio. Requisite: a letter from the pharacter is desired. Terms $1.

SPIRITUAL MEDIUM.
H. P. FARRFIELD, Trance Speaking Medium and Cla lairvoyant Healing Physician

THE Subscriber's Monthly is devoted to the investigation tigation of the Philosophy of Mind The subscriber's Monthly is devoted to the investigation that Finesophy of animal at the being, action and manifestation in every plane of development, including the fillosophy of Spiritual Manifestations.

He will demonstrate the principles by which all the phenomena connected with spiritualism can be understood, and by which all the apparent antagonisms may be harmonized.

He will trace the DIVINE METHOD in all things natural and spiritual, showing the true relation of the FINITE to the INFINITE; and will investigate the laws of Divine manifestation in the light of axiomatic truths.

He will demonstrate the existence of a religious nature in man, point out its needs and the Divine method of supplying them.

He will give the Philosophy of Christianity in its adaptedness to the redemption and salvation of man.

He will teach the method of truly translating the AUTUAL and REAL into the PERCENTIVE and IDEAL, by means of which the mind is truly unfolded in LOVE and Wisson, thereby begetting in man true action in respect to kimself, his NEIGHDOR and 118 GOD.

To be published at the office of the Spiritual Tribbeard, New York. Each Number contain ninety-six octavo pages, Small Plea type. This work commenced on the 1st of March, 1856. It is issued monthly, at $3 per annum, in advance. Subscriptions and remittances received by Parteidge and Brittan, Telegraph Office, 342 Broadway, New York.

AGENTS WANTED.

AGENTS WANTED.

The Proprietors of this paper are desirous of secaring responsible, active Agents and Canvassers in every city and town where there are minds free enough to give heed to the current phenomena of Spiritualism. Men or women are equally suited to this work, if they are but willing to engage carnestly in it. We wish them to solicit subscriptions for the Spiritual Tente are and Theran's Monthly; also for all Books contained in our Catalogue, the price and postage being there specified. Those who will serve in this capacity, and obtain now subscribers to the Theranaru and orders for Books amounting to $15 or more, are at liberty to retain, if they choose, one-fourth (25 per cent.) of the published prices as a compensation for their exertions. We do not propose to send our publications for sale on our own account, but to furnish them to Agents at the above rates for cash. The friends of the cause to writeh our publications are devoted can render it valuable service by coming toget. which our publications are devoted can render it valuable service by coming toge ther in their particular localities and agreeing on some one-to-serve as a general agent for that section, and each one resolving himself or herself into a committee Remittances sent in pursuance of the above proposals, will be sufficient notice of the

WYCKOFF & KIRTLAND. MERCHANT TAILORS,

MERCHANT TAILOIVE,
No. 105 HOUSTON STREET.

Near Avenue D, New York.

A neat and well-selected stock of Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings, always on hand.
Men's Boys' and Children's Clothing made to order, in any style, to suit customers.

Eventshing Goods of every description. 231-12m LEWIS KIRTLAND

WATER CURE AND INFIRMARY,

FOR THE RECEPTION AND CURE OF INVALID FEMALES.

No Males received. Displacements treated with remarkable success. Such patients, whether bed-ridden or not, will fined our course of treatment a cure, wher medication has entirely failed. Our method must and will supersede all others, in the treatment of this class of patients. Terms $7 and $10 per week. Address W SHEPARD, M. D., Columbus, O.

MUSICAL WINTER EVENINGS. SIXTH CLASS.

NEW YORK MUSICAL ACADEMY, 553 BROADWAY. PRINCIPAL-MISS EMMA HARDINGE.

Ladies and Gentlemen are invited to join an Evening Class for the study of Glees Light Singing and Part Songs.

Subscription to this class only: For one student, $6; for two, $10; for three, $14; for four, $16. Terms in advance.

235-tf

TO NERVOUS SUFFERERS.

A RETIRED elergyman, restored to health in a few days, after many years of great nervous suffering, is anxious to make known the means of cure. Will send (free) the prescription used. Direct the Rev. John M. Dagnall, No. 59 Fulton-street, Brook-

C. W. KELLOGG & CO...

PRODUCE COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

NO. 44 WATER-STREET, NEW YORK,
CHARLES W. KELLOGG. 209 EDWARD H. KELLOGG.

CHLORIDE DE CALCIUM; OR, WATERS FROM THE

OR, WATERS FROM THE ARTESIAN WELL,
ST. CATHARINES, C. W.

Twelve miles from Miagara Falls, over a good Kailroad.

These Waters are now being extensively introduced throughout this continent, as a sovereign agent for restoring to comparative, and in many instances to perfect health, those afflicted with Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Complaints etc. In all cases of indigestion, this water, taken according to the directions, effects a speedy cure. It corrects the acidity of the stomach, and produces a sweet breath It may be diluted with soft water, and used as a tooth wash, with good effects. By using it on the healt a healthy state of the skin is produced—thereby not only preventing the hair from failing off, but often causing new hair to spring up and grow luxuriantly. The large quantities of Chlorine which this valuable water contains, make it decidedly the most important Mineral Water yet discovered, not only as a remedy for typhus and chronic affections of the liver, scarletina, and malignant sore throat, but as a gargle in putrid sore throat, a wash for ill-conditioned ulcers and carcerous sores, and as a local bath in diseases of the liver.

ANALYSIS BY PROP. HENRY CROFT.

rough porce, mun no n
	ANALYSIS BY	PROF.	HENRY	CROFT. IN 1,000	IN PINT	7,680 GRS. 16.8868
Sulphate of Lim	e			2,1928		16.5868
Chloride of Calci	um			14,8544		114,0818
Chloride of Maga	esium			8.3977		26.0944
Iodide of Magnes	sinm			0.0042		0.0822
Bromide of Magn	nesium, a trace.
Chloride of Pota				0.8555		2.7802
Chloride of Sodi	um			29.8084		228,8901
Chloride of Ami	nonium,)			_		-
Silicie Acid,	In true	C.		50.6075		888.6655
	Loss			x.0670
				51.6745

Bathing in these waters has been attended with such magic effects, that hundreds of invalids laboring under the following diseases, viz., Scrofnia, Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, want of action in digestive and urinary organs, Paralysis, etc. etc. have, during the present season, been ttracted thither.

DIRECTIONS.—In Dysentery and Diarrhea: A table-speenful of the Mineral Water to a quart of pure water; take a wine-glass full every two or three hours until relieved. For Indigestion, Flatulence, Loss of Appetite, Drowsiness and Dyspepsia, add twenty drops to a wine-glass full of water, and drink morning and evening Price, large bottles, $1; second size, 50 cents; small size, 25 cents.

Phice, large bottles, $1; second size, 50 cents; small size, 55 cents.

LIST OF AGENTS, AS FOLLOWS:

BALTIMORE: J. J. Smith, McKenzie & Co., J. M. Laroqui, S. S. Hance, Israel Graham. Philladelphia: Bullock & Cranshaw, John Decker, George Stone, Charles Shivers, Samuel Miller, George Mellor, Samuel Sims, Principal Agent, Dyotf & Sons, Principal Agents, Bosron: Weeks & Potter, Principal Agents, Carter, Colcord & Co. New York: W. E. Thompson, Courier and Enquirer office, Principal Agent Hegeman, Clark & Co., Broadway, Principal Agents, E. W. Tryon, Thomas F. Green, J. W. Sleight, T. V. Bushton. Sr. Catharines, C. W.: E. W. Stephenson.

223-tf Address, E. W. STEPHENSON, St. Catharines, C. W. E. W. STEPHENSON, St. Catharines, C. W. Address,

MR. & MRS. J. R. METTLER,

PSYCHO-MAGNETIC PHYSICIANS.

CLARWOVANT EXAMINATIONS—With all diagnostic and therapeutic suggestion required by the patient, carefully written out.

TERMS—For examinations, including prescriptions, five dollars, if the patient be present; and ten dollars when absent. All subsequent examinations two dollars. Terms strictly in advance. When the person to be examined can not be present, by extreme illness, distance, or other circumstances, Mrs. M. will require a lock of the patient's hair. And in order to receive attention, some of the leading symptoms must be stream when sending the bair. ust be stated when sending the hair.

must be stated when sending the hair.

Mus. Mettler also gives Psychometrical delineations of character, by having a letter from the person whose character she is required to disclose. Terms $2.

The wonderful success which has uniformly attended the treatment of discuss prescribed by the best medical Clairvoyants, is a sufficient guaranty that the claims of this hitherto unknown agent are indeed founded in truth. In more than half of the towns and villages of New England are to be found the monuments of its mysterious skill; while thousands of men and women in the Middle and Western States, can testify to-day that their lives have been saved, or their health has been restored, through the agency of medical Clairvoyance.

202-tf Address, DR. J. R. METTLER, Hartford, Conn.

THE PENETRALIA:

THE PENETRALIA;

Being Hamonial Answers to Important Questions;

A NEW WORK, BY ANDREW JACKSON DAVIS,
In the preface Mr. Davis says; "From time to time during the past three years, the Author has been interrogated on almost every topic; frequently by letter, sometimes orally, and naturally by the subjects themselves; and this volume is designed as a responsion to such questions as have appeared to him of the greatest importance to mankind."

This is esteemed the most orig nal, attractive and useful work over written by this yoluminous author, and it reveals some of his most private spiritual experiences.

CONTENTS.

	The Philosophy of Questions and Answers
	The Assembly Shorter Catechism, Revised and Corrected 25
	Questions on Life, Local and Universal,
	Questious on Theo-Physiology,
	Questions on the Despotism of Opinion
	Questions on the Martyrdom of Jesus,
	Questions on the Myths of Modern Theology,
	Questions on the Evidences of Immertality,
	Questions on the Effects of Utilitarianism,
	Questions on the Origin and Perpetuity of Character,
	Questions on the Benefits and Penalties of Individualism,
	Questions on the Benefits and Penalties of Institutionalism301
	Psychometrical Examination of William Lloyd Garrison,
7773	ate eventient volume, contains 828 pages octave, is printed on good names and

This exection to nume, contains see pages occave, is printed on good paper, and well bound. To be had wholesale and retail of the Publisher, Brilla Marish. Price, $1 Single copies sent by mail on the receipt of $1 and 8 postage stamps. The work is also be for sale at this office.

UPHOLSTERY.

MR. AND MES. D. G. TAYLOR, formerly of 474 Broadway, are ready to wait on oustomers, as formerly, at their own dwellings, to cut, make and repair carpets and cartains. Present residence, 145 West Sixteenth-street, between Seventh and Eighth

N.B.-Loose covers cut and made in the best possible manner.

COUNTRY BOARDING.

Two or three Families can be accommodated with genteel Board at Sing Sing, about ten minutes' walk from the Railroad Depot and Steamboat Landing; situation cemmanding an extensive river view. Spiritualists preferred, as there is a Medium in the house. Refer to S. B. Brittan, Esq., or a line to Box 28 Sing Sing Post Office,

J. W. ORR,
DESIGNER AND ENGRAVER ON WOOD.
To Nassan-street, New York.

Spiritualists' Directory.

PUBLIC LECTURERS.

MISS ENMA FRANCES JAY is a Trance Speaking Medium and vocalist of extraordinary shiss EMMA Franciss Jar is a Trance Speaking Medium and vocalist of extraordinary powers, whose public efforts are everywhere received with mingled emotions of surprise and delight. The Editor of the Baltimore Republican, who has no faith in Spiritualism, in a recent notice of Miss Jay's lectures in that city, says:—Miss Jay seems to have either been in the hands of a Spirit who was perfect master of elecution, or else she has had excellent instructions in the art. Her gesticulation was graceful, frequent, and perfectly expressive of the idea conveyed. The language used was the most chaste and pure style, and seldom, if ever, excelled in the desk.

S. B. Burray will does at the conveyed.

chaste and pure style, and seldom, if ever, excelled in the desk.

S. B. BEITTAN will devote a portion of his time to giving Lectures on the facts and Philosophy of Spiritualism; the Laws of Vital Motion and Organic Development; the relations of Sensation and Thought to the Bodily Functions; the Philosophy of Health and Disease; also, lectures on various Moral, Progressive, and Philosophico-Theological and Practical Subjects. Address Mr. Brittan, at this office.

REV. T. L. HARRIS, widely known in this country and Europe as an inspired thinker, oet and orator, is one of the most brilliant and powerful lecturers on the Spiritual hilosophy and cognate subjects. Mr. H. is now in this city, and may be addressed care of this office whiltam Fishbough, one of the first writers and speakers who took a public stand in favor of Spiritualism, who has been a close observer of its facts and phenomena, and a diligent student of its philosophy, is prepared to lecture on such branches of that and kindred themes as may be deemed useful and edifying to his audiences. Address, care of Partridge and Brittan, at this Office.

Miss C. M. Beber, Medium, whose lectures lately delivered in New York, Troy, Philadelphia, Baltimore and elsewhere, have been so highly appreciated for the ess and elegance of their diction, and the refining and elevating character of their abject matter, may be addressed by those who desire her services as a lecturer, care f Partridge & Brittan, this office.

MR. & MRS. U. CLARK, the Spiritual Lecturers, will respond to calls together, or clearly along to allight the transfer of their contents.

Mr. Clark alone, to officiate at marriages and funerals, or as lecturer and healing me in. Desire alone, to officere at marriages and function of the state of the first time. Residence, Auburn, N. Y.

Charles Partringe, an early advocate and supporter of Spiritualism, and a diligent CHARLES PARTRIBOR, an early advocate and supporter of opinionism, and a difficult of the facts of the new unfolding, is prepared to give the results of his investigations to audiences which may require his services. Address, this Office.

collector of the facts of the new unfolding, is prepared to give the results of instructions to audiences which may require his services. Address, this Office, Dr. J. W. Oston, who has several well-prepared fectures in illustration and defense of Spiritualism, will deliver them to such audiences as may apply for his services. Address, care of Partridge & Britan, this office.

Miss A. W. Spragure fectures under spiritual influence. Her abilities are spoken of in terms of high estimation by those who have been accustomed to hear her. Address Plymouth, Vt.

HENRY H. TATOR, a gentleman who has for some years devoted his time and mental energies almost exclusively to literary pursuits, has commenced lecturing in illustration and defense of the facts and principles of the Spiritual Philosophy and Life. Mr. T. is a man of culture, refined in his feelings, gifted with illustration and defense of the facts and principles of the Spiritual Philosophy and Life. Mr. T. is a man of culture, refined in his feelings, gifted with a poetic imagination, a remarkably fine voice, and whatever other natural endowments are most essential to personal success and public usefulness. Mr. Tator has our right hand of fellowship, and may be addressed at this office.

Mrs. B. F. Haron (formerly Cora L. V. Scott), is a Trance-Speaking Medium whose poetic and philosophical discourses have attracted large audiences and given high satisfaction. Address Dr. B. F. Hatch, 49 Bleecker-streeet, New York.

A. E. NEWTON, Editor of the New England Spiritualist, will respond to the calls of those who may desire his services as a lecturer on the Facts and Philosophy of Spirit-ualism. Address No. 15 Franklin-street, Boston, Mass.

Dr. R. T. Hallook, known and appreciated as a clear and fluent speaker, will lecture on various subjects connected with Spiritualism. Address, corner of Christie and Broome-streets, New York.

Mrs. Beck, through whom Spirits speak with facility, will answer the calls of those who may desire her to lecture to them, within any convenient distanthis city. Address 383 Eighth Avenue, N. Y.

R. P. AMBLER, one of the most eloquent and popular speakers, lectures, under Spiritual Induence, on the Principles of Modern Spiritualism in all its Relations. He will answer calls for lectures on Sunday, and also for lectures during the week, in the vicinity of Philadelphia, New York, and Boston. Address, Baltimore, Maryland.

MES. M. S. NEWYON delivers lectures on themes connected with Spiritualism while in the trance state. (What is her P. O. address?)

MRS. C. M. TUTTLE, of Albion, Mich., a popular trance-speaking medium of three years' successful experience, will accept invitations to speak in places West—in Mich-igen, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio, and short distances East. Address, Albion, Mich.

Austin E. Simmons lectures in the trance state as he is impressed by the controlling spiritual influences. Address Woodstock, Vt.

S. C. Hewirr, formerly Editor of the New Era, lectures on Spiritualism, as a science, as clearly proved as chemistry or any of the natural sciences; also, on its philosophy and its uses. He may be addressed at 15 Franklin-street, Boston, Mass. R. P. Wilson, long known as a successful lecturer on Spiritualism in the northern part of Ohio, will receive invitations to lecture in accessible places. He may be addressed, River Styx, Ohio.

REV. GIBSON EMITH will lecture on Human Magnetism, Clairvoyance, the Facts and Laws of Spiritualism, and all similar subjects wherever he may be called. Postoffice address South Shaftsbury, Vt. G. C. Stewart, who generally speaks involuntarily, under spirit control, will re spond to calls to lecture on Spiritualism, within any convenient distance from this city. He may be addressed at Newark, N. J.

Dr. C. P. Sandford, Speaking Medium and Normal Lecturer on Spiritualism, will respond to calls for public lectures. Address, Pendeeville, Columbia Co., Wis.

WEEKLY JOURNALS DEVOTED TO SPIRITUALISM.

WEERLY JUURNALS DEVOLED TO STRAIGHTAILISM.

SPIRITUAL TRLEGRAPH; Editor, S. B. Brittan; publishers and proprietors, Partridge & Brittan, 342 Broadway, N. Y. Terms, $2 per annum.

CHRISTIAN SPIRITUALIST; Edited and published by the Society for the Diffusion Spiritual Knowledge, 553 Broadway, N. Y. Terms, $2 per annum.

NEW ENGLAND SPIRITUALIST; Editor and publisher, A. E. Newton, 15 Franklin street, Boston; Terms, $2 per annum.

Spiritual Universe; L. S. Everett, Editor and proprietor, Cleveland, O. Term

AGE OF PROGRESS; Editor and publisher, Stephen Albro, Buffalo, N. Y.; Terms, $2

SPIEITUAL MESSENGER; E. Mead, M.D., Editor and publisher, No. 30 Sixth-

SPIRITUAL MESSENGER; E. Mesd, M.D., Lente.

Cincinnati, O. Torms, $2 per annum.

THE TRUTH SEEKEE; Editors and preprietors, A. P. Bowman, and E. B. Louden

Angola, Steubon Go., Indiana. Terms, $1 50 per annum.

THE CRISE; Editor, Rev. Henry Weller, La Porte, Indiana. Terms, $2 per annum.

THE MEDIUM, conducted by J. M. Barnes and H. W. Hulbert; published at Congesut, O. Terms, $1 50 per annum, in advance.

Ecsut, O. Terms, $1 50 per annum, in advance.
Yorkshire Spiritual Trleggaph, a monthly periodical, published by J. Rho Market Place, Keighley; and Holyoake & Co., Fleet-streef, London.

SPIRITUAL MAGAZINES.

Editor and proprietor, Joel Tiffany; publishers, Partridge E Brittan, 342 Brosdway, New York. Terms, $3 per annum.

SAGREY CIRCLE. Editors, Hon. J. W. Edmonds and O. G. Warren; publishers, S. J. L. Hoyt, 241 Broadway, New York. Terms, $2 per annum.

The North-Western Orient. Editors, Hiram Hugunin and George Haskell, M.D.; publisher, J. N. Brundage, Wenkegan, Ill. Terms, $1 50 per annum. SPIRITUAL MAGAZINES.

Partridge & Brittan

KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND AND FOR SALE,

At the Publishers' prices, the Books comprehended in the following list, together with other Spiritual publications. Careful examination of the list, and orders at the read ers' convenience are respectfully solicited.

Natty a Spirit tty a Spirit.

Allen Putnam, Esq., Roxbury, Mass., is the author and compiler of this Narrative and Communication. The book contains an interesting narrative of the production of the Spirit's likeness by an artist on canvas through spiritual vision. communications, directions, etc. 175 pages. Price, muslin bound as Compendium of the Theological and Spiritual Writings of Swedenborg, Being a Systematic and Orderly Epitome of all his Religious Works. With an appropriate introduction. Prefaced by a full Life of the Author, with a brief view of all his Works on Science, Philosophy, and Theology. Parteings & Beittan, General Agents. Price, $2; postage, 45 cents.

Buchanan's Anthropology.

Being Outlines of Lectures on the Neuralogical System of Anthropology, as discovered, demonstrated and taught. By Joseph R. Buchanan, M. D., in four parts

New Testament Miracles and Modern Miracles

W Testament miracles and modern miracles.

The comparative amount of evidence for each; the nature of both; testimon of a hundred witnesses. An Essay read before the Divinity School, Cambridge The Lily Wreath nunications, received chiefly through the mediumship of Mrs. J. S. Adams. By A. B. Child, M. D. Price, S5 cents, $1, and $1 50, acc the style of the binding. Postage, 15 cents. Spiritualism Explained.

iritualism Explained.

By Joel Tiffany. Twelve Lectures delivered in the city of New York, entitled The Demonstration of Truth, The Sphere of Lust, The Second or Relational Sphere; Communications; Philosophy of Progression; Mediumship; Spiritual Healing; Condition of the Spirit; Organization; Individualization; What Constitutes the Spirit, etc. Price, $1; postage, 12½ cents.

Spiritual Herald:

ritual Herald:

A London Monthly, devoted to the Exposition of the Phenomena of Spiritual Manifestations, and their application to Human Welfare. Published by H. Balliere, 219 Regent-Street, London. For sale by PARTRIDGE & BRITTAN, 342 Broadway, New York. Price 1834 cents; postage, 2_cents.

Comte's Positive Philosophy.

Translated by Harriet Martineau. A new and elegant edition in one volum Price, $3 00. This work is in one splendid octavo of S85 pages, large type, elegant paper, and neatly bound in cloth. Printed verbatim from the London edi-For sale at this office

Philosophy of Mysterious Agents, 110sopny of mysterious agents, Human and Mundane; or, the Dynamic Laws and Relations of Man. By F. Rogers. Bound; price $1; postage, 24 cents.

Light from the Spirit-World.

Being written by the control of Spirits. Rev. Charles Hammond, Medium. Price

The Boquet of Spiritual Flowers; Received chiefly through the mediumship of Mrs. J. S. Adams. By A. B. Child. M. D. Price, 85 cents; postage, 13 cents.

The Macrocosm;
Or the Universe Without. By William Fishbough. Paper bound, price, 50 cts.;
muslin, 75 cents; postage, 12 cents.

By Herman Snow, late Unitarian Minister at Montagu, Massachus cents; postage, 10 cents. Biography of Mrs. Semantha Mettler, And an account of the Wonderful Cures performed by her. By Frances H. Green, Price, paper, 25 cents; masla, 25 cents; postage, 6 cents.

Spirit-Manijestations. Spirit-Manniestations.

Being an Exposition of Fact principles, etc. By Rev. Adin Bailon. Price, 75 cents; postage, 10 cents.

Reply to a Discourse.

Of Rev. S. W. Lind, D.D., President Western Theological Institute, Covington, Ky. By P. E. Bland, A.M., St. Louis. Price, 15 cents; postage, 2 cents. cher's Report on the Spiritual Manifestations.

To the Congregational Association of New York and Brooklyn. Price, paper, 25 cents; muslin, 38 cents; postage, $ and 6 cents.

Review of Beecher's Report.

Review of Rev. Charles Beecher's epinion of the Spirit-Manifestations. By John S. Adams. Price, 6 cents; postage 1 cent. Spiritual Instructor.

Containing the Facts and Philosophy of Spiritual Intercourse. Price, 38 cents; postage, 6 cents. The Spiritual Teacher.

Spirits of the Sixth Circle. R. P. Ambler, medium. Price, 50 cents; posts Messages from the Superior State nunicated by John Murray through J. M. Spear. Price 50 cents; postage

The Great Harmonia. Vol. IV.

The Reformer. By A. J. Davis. Concerning physiological vices and virtues, and the Seven Spheres of Marriags. Price, $1; postage, 19 cents.

The Great Harmonia, Vol. I.

The Physician. By A. J. Davis. Price, $1 25; postage, 20 cents.

The Physician. By A. J. Davis. Price, $1 00; postage, 19 cents.

The Great Harmonia, Vol. III.

The Great Harmonia, Vol. III.

The Seer. By A. J. Davis. Price, $1; postage, 19 cents.

A Treatise on the Peculiarities of the Bible.

Being an Exposition of the Principles involved in some of the most rdmarkable Facts in Revelation. By Rev. E. D. Rendell. Price, 75 cents; postage, 17 cents

Dr. Esdaile's Natural and Mesmeric Clairvoyance. With the Practical Application of Mesmerism in Surgery and Medicine. (English Edition.) Price, $1 25; postage, 10 cents.

Fascination;
Or, the Philosophy of Charming. By John B. Newman, M. D. Price, 40 cents:

Rivulet from the Ocean of Truth.

An interesting narrative of advancement of a Spirit from Darkness to Light. By John S. Adams. Price, 25 cents: postage, 5 cents. Astounding Facts from the Spirit-World.

Witnessed at the house of J. A. Gridley, Southan colored diagram. Price, 63 cents; postage, 9 cents. athampton, Mass. Illustrated with Philosophy of Creation.

Unfolding the laws of the Progressive Development of Nature. By Thoma Paine, through Horace G. Wood, Medium. Price 88 cents; postage, 6 cents. The Child and The Man. Fourth of July Oration by Dr. Hallock, with extemporaneous Speeches by S. B. Brittan and others. Price 18 cents; postage S cents. The Conflict of Ages ;

Or, the Great Debate on the Moral Relations of God and Beecher, D.D. Price, $1 25; postage, 23 cents.

Epitome of Spirit Intercourse.

Being a condensed view of Spiritualism in its Scriptural, Histor tific Aspects. By Alfred Cridge. Price, 48 cents; postage on of ninety familiar Tunes and Hymns, appropriate to Spiritual intercourse. Paper, 25 cents; muslin, 38 cents. Spirit-Voices-Odes.

ed by Spirits, for the use of Circles. By E. C. Henck, medit muslin, 38 cents; postage, 6 cents. ments of Animal Magnetism;

Or, Process and Applies tion for relieving Human Suffering. By Charles

Seventeen Objections By John S. Adams. Paper, 25 cents; mus

Millennium Dawn

m. By Rev. C. K. Harvey. Price, 50 cents; postage Library of Mesmerism.

By Newman, Snell, Dr. Dodd, Williams, and others. Price, $1 50 per volume, postage, 20 centa. The Ministry of Angels Realized. By A. E. Newton, Boston, Price, 1

By A. E. Newton, Boston. Price, 15 cents; postage, 3 cents.

Spirit-Works Real, but not Miraculous
A Lecture. By Allan Putnam. Price, 25 cents; postage, 3 cents.

The Harmonial Man:
By Andrew Jackson Davis. Price, 80 cents; postage, 6 cents.

Night Side of Nature. Seers. By Catherine Crowe. Price, $1 25; postage, 20 cents.

Tae Philosophy of Special Provinence

A Vision. By A. J. Davis. Price, 15 cents; postage, 8 cents.

Free Thoughts on Religion.

A. J. Davis. Price, 15 cents; postage, 3 cents.

Mrs. M. B. Randall's Address on Spiritualism.

Evangel of the Spheres.

By D. J. Mandala

By D. J. Mandells. Price 30 conts; posta A Synopsis of Spiritual Manifestations. Price 30 cents; postage 6 cents.

Through John S. Williams, medium. Price, 5 cents; postage, 1 cent.

Correspondence between Spiritualists in St. Louis and Rev. Dr. N. L. Rice.

A Letter to the chestnut Street Congregational Church, Cheisea, Mrss.

By John S, Adams. Price, 15 cents; postage, 4 cents. By John S. Adams. Price, 15 cents Elements of Spiritual Philosophy.

cents; postage, 4 cents R. P. Ambl Voices from the Spirit-World. Price, 50 cents; postage, 10 cents.

Also, Me, merism in India. Price, 75 cents; postage, 18 cents

The Science of the Soul, By Haddock. Price, 25 cents; postage, 5 cents, Sorcery and Magic.

By Wright. Price, $1 25; postage, 19 cents.

The Philosophy of Spiritual Intercourse.

By A. J. Davis. Price, 50 cents; postage, 9 cents.

Emanuel Swedenborg,

As a Man of Science, Civilian, Seer, and Theologian. Price, 80 cents; postage, $

Religion of Manhood; or, the Age of Thought.] By Dr. J. H. Robinson. Price, 75 cents; post

Modern Spiritualism.

Its Facts and Fanaticisms; its Consistencies and Contradictions; with an Appendix, By E. W. Capron. Price, $1; postage, 20 cents.

Bible, is it a Guide to Reaven?
By Geo. B. Smith. Price, 25 cents; postage, 3-c; Spiritual Experience of Mrs. Lorin L. Platt.

Principles of Human Mind,
Deduced from Physical Laws. By Alfred Snell. Price, 25 cents; postage, 3 eta.

Proceedings of the Hartford Bible Convention.

Reported phonographically by Andrew J. Graham.

888 pages, 12mo. Price, 7b cents; postage, 18 cents.

The Healing of the Nations.

Through Charles Linton, Medium, with an elaborate Introduction and Appendix by Gov. Tallmadge. Illustrated with two beautiful steel engravings. Contains 550 pages. Price, $1 50; postage, 30 cents.

PARTRIDGE & BRITTAN, Publishers,

TO THE PATRONS OF THIS PAPER.

TERMS OF THE SPIRITUAL TELEGRAPH.

One Year, strictly in advance,
Six Months,
To City Subscribers, if delivered,
To City Subscribers, if delivered,
Six Months,
Si

REMOVALS AND DISCONTINUANCES.—It is our custom to notify patrons of the time then their subscriptions terminate, and if they are not renewed, the paper is stopped. We beg our friends not to deem it abrupt or unkind in us if the paper is discontinued since our mailing clerk keeps the books in accordance with the general system we have adopted, and can exercise no discretion. The proprietors nover know, except by chance, when a subscription expires or a paper is discontinued.

To our City Subscribers.-We purpose in future to deliver this paper to city suberibers through the regular mail, which can be done for one cent per copy, if the ubscribers prepays the postage at this Office. The price of the paper and delivery will be $2.50, and the subscriber must take the risk of the faithful performance of duty, so far as relates to the Post Office Department.

To Advertisers.—The wide circulation of the Telegraph now renders it a desira-To ADVERTISHS.—The wide circulation of the TELEGRAPH now renders it a desirable advertising medium, and the proprietors will continue to occupy a limited portion of their space at the following rates. Twelve and and a half cents per line will be the price for a single insertion; each succeeding insertion. Eight cents per line. To those who advertise for three months, no extra charge will be made for the first insertion. Every advertisement must be prepaid to secure its appearance for the time it is expected to remain, and it will be discontinued when that time expires.

Subscribers' Residence Changed.

Subscribers' Acsidence Chingens.
Subscribers' Acsidence Chingens.
Subscribers to this paper who have occasion to change their residence, and desire to have a corresponding change in the direction of their papers, must not fall to accompany their requests with their previous Post-Office address, as it is often impossible to refer to them among the thousands whose names are on our books.

A. J. Brady, Printer, 342 Broadway, New York.